TIGER-CAT FINED $50
WINNIPEG (CP)—Football commissioner G. Sydney Hatter today announced Hamilton Tiger-Cat halfback Ralph Goldston has been fined $50 "for conduct resulting in a match penalty in the Grey Cup game at Vancouver Saturday."

Goldston was ejected from the classic in the second quarter when judge of play Taylor Paterson ruled he slugged Winnipeg Blue Bomber ball carrier Leo Lewis after making the tackle. The Bombers won 35-28.

Hit-and-Run Suspected In Tot's Death

WEST VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP)—The body of a 20-month-old girl was found Tuesday night, crumpled beside the road near her home.

Police said they are investigating the death of Jean Marie Anderson. They said she died of head injuries and may have been hit by a car which failed to stop.

Mrs. Eugene Anderson told police she put Jean Marie to bed early in the evening for being naughty, then got her up about 9:30 p.m. so she would be awake when her daddy arrived home.

The mother was working around the house and a short time later found that the little girl had disappeared. She found her dead on the street outside.

WHAT'S UP IN SPACE? U.S. to Put Monkeys In Satellite Orbit

100-Foot Flames Whipped by Wind

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A wind-lashed fire has cut an eight-mile-wide swath from the mountains to the sea but a massed battery of pumps, virtually one to a house, today checked a threat to this famed film colony.

Elsewhere, flame walls 100 feet high roared on unchecked. The huge blaze, driven by 50 mile-an-hour winds, has destroyed an estimated 36 homes.

Hundreds of residents have fled the scene.

The blaze, perhaps set by an arsonist, burst out Tuesday on the brush and oak-studded inland slopes of the Santa Monica Mountains. The winds quickly whipped it over the crest of the hills and down canyons to the sea.

The Malibu Beach film colony is on the ocean side of the highway. The flames jumped from the land side across the highway but the intensive efforts of firemen and their pumps and residents with garden hoses checked the threat.

Stopped by the Pacific Ocean, the flames turned their fury toward thickly settled Malibu Canyon, at the mouth of which lies the beach colony that has long been a favorite residential area for movie people.

Firemen battled fiercely through the night in an effort to keep the blaze out of Malibu Canyon, but lost the fight just before dawn when flames 100 feet high roared over the top of the last ridge and bore down on the homes a half-mile below.

Directly in the path of the flames were a dozen homes, a Catholic church and school and an elementary school being used as fire fighting headquarters and an evacuation centre.

The fire has already destroyed several expensive homes, among them the $50,000 hilltop house of actor Lew Ayres.

RANCHES ABANDONED
A barn on actor Ronald Reagan's ranch was burned down and ranches owned by Bob Hope and Canadian-born Glenn Ford had to be abandoned.

In the Malibu Beach colony residents spent the night spraying water on their homes to keep them from being ignited by sparks from the roaring fire.

Among them was actor Jackie Coogan. But as the flames topped the ridge at the head of the canyon, many of them packed their belongings and started to leave.

The Social Credit government, and I don't know what more could be expected from any department of highways," Mr. Brothers said.

Columbia River development was one of the main points brought out by Mr. Devito. Comparing it in potential scope to Grand Coulee and the Tennessee Valley Authority, he asserted that this development under public control presented a magnificent opportunity of ensuring prosperity in this area.

The CCF nominee said fruition of such a scheme would alleviate the problem of people moving into the greater communities of the area.

Tory candidate Mr. Brokenshire denied his party is not interested in the problems and welfare of the working man.

"We are all working men and we should never forget it. On top of that, we never were on the working man's back."

Mr. Brokenshire referred to the Social Credit government's record during the last six months.

ARTILLERY DUEL MARKS ISRAELI, SYRIA CLASH

JERUSALEM (AP)—An hour-long artillery duel between Israeli and Syrian units broke out on the borders of the two countries this afternoon. It ended after a United Nations cease-fire request.

First reports indicated that one man—an Israeli shepherd—was killed by shellfire, a UN spokesman said.

Builder Blamed In Vancouver Bridge Disaster

The Lett Royal Commission Tuesday placed responsibility for the June 17 collapse of the partially-built Second Narrows Bridge on the contractors, Dominion Bridge Company.

The B.C. government was exonerated in the tragedy which claimed 18 lives.

Collapse was held due to failure of a temporary support section known as N4.

Dominion Bridge Company was named guilty of negligence in the design and construction of the bridge "falsework" and for failing to submit plans for "falsework" to the engineers.

Consulting engineers Swan, Wooster and Partners were charged with a lack of care in not requiring the contractor to submit the plans of the "falsework."

Premier Bennett, who released the royal commission report of Chief Justice Sherwood Lett, called for resignations of Sun publisher Donald Cromie and Opposition Leader Robert Strachan for suggesting last June that Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi might be also partly responsible.

He pointed out the bridge is being built by the B.C. Toll Highways and Bridges Authority and not by the highways department, and the authority was held blameless, in any event.

The premier said the Lett report was presented to the cabinet late Monday. Quoting from the report, the premier said: "The toll authority received the advice and recommendation of the bridge division of the highways department as to the design of the bridge as prepared by the engineers (Swan, Wooster and Partners)."

"This advice, as to design, was sound and was followed, and was not disregarded in any way by the (toll) authority."

"There was no negligence or faulty judgment on the part of the (toll) authority, which caused or contributed to the collapse."

The premier said the chief justice added, "for this negligence, I find the Dominion

Mice Go Aloft In New Series

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defence Department announced today it will launch a series of satellites with mice and monkeys aboard in an effort to learn how to put a man in orbit and get him back.

The program, called "Project Discoverer," will be carried out at Vandenberg Air Force base near Lompoc, Calif.

The first shot of the series will be fired in about 30 days.

Project Discoverer will use proved military rockets capable of putting as much as five tons of payload into an orbit around the earth.

The first moon of the new launching series will be fired into orbit late this month or early next. It will weigh about 1,300 pounds.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's space agency, said further launchings may be expected at the rate of about one a month in 1959.

In disclosing the plan to use mice and monkeys as satellite "crews" during Project Discoverer, Johnson said space experts believe they can bring artificial moons back to earth and land them within 200 miles of a desired point.

Johnson said no attempt will be made to put a man in orbit in 1959. And the first animals, he said, probably will not go aloft until the fifth or sixth launching in the series.

Project Discoverer plans now cover only next year, but Johnson said he expects it to continue indefinitely.

'MYSTERY BEEPS'

SUNNYVALE, Calif. ((CP))—Detection of a mysterious signal from space was reported Tuesday night, following a report that Russia has within the last two weeks fired a rocket past the moon and on out toward Mars.

However, the U.S. defence department said it knows nothing of the signals, and denied any knowledge of the reported rocket launching.

The signals were reported by a missile tracking station operated here by the Lockheed missiles system division. Station chief C. Roger Moe said the signals definitely came from a man-made instrument and were not caused by any natural phenomena.

A spokesman said the signals could not be explained at this time.

"They were similar to—but not the same as—the telemeter signals from Sputnik I in its earlier stages."

They were picked up on the 20,003 megacycle band and continued for 10 or 15 minutes, he said. The information was handed over to the U.S. Air Force.

The report of the rocket launching came from Erik Bergaust, editor of Missiles and Rockets Magazine. He told the Advertising Club in Pittsburgh that U.S. scientists tracked the missile by radio for three days.

Scientists associated with the U.S. space programs joined the defence department in denying any knowledge of the rocket.

'MOONBIRD' SET

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The Army appeared almost ready today to send its first moon rocket hurtling into space in a vital radiation-measuring mission.

The 140-foot-tall service tower of the Army's moon bird moved back from the rocket Tuesday, exposing a vehicle that bore a striking resemblance to the Jupiter-C rockets that put three satellites into orbit in six tries.

Although there has been no official announcement, the Army is expected to fire the tail Juno II rocket some time this weekend.

The Army's moon vehicle appeared fully assembled when it was revealed Tuesday. It appeared that only final checks were necessary prior to firing.

Dr. Werner von Braun, German-born Army missile chief, has said the Army will aim its rocket at the moon.

But he said that because of the lack of an adequate guidance system, the Juno II probably will miss the moon and eventually become a satellite of the sun, millions of miles away.

In contrast to the Air Force moon rockets, which were designed to orbit the lunar sphere and take crude TV pictures of its never-seen dark side, the Army's payload package is intended to take radiation measurements in space.

The railway-car sized rocket, soared into space May 15, carrying the third Russian artificial satellite. It put the Sputnik into orbit, then went into orbit itself and eclipsed its master with its flashing brilliance.

Today it was on its last circuits and was scheduled to fall to a fiery end at any time, victim of gravity and the insignificant but relentless drag of the almost non-

Small Faces Should Reflect Love

Look at the children in the picture, then look in your purse.

See the hunger on small faces which should reflect only love and laughter—then see if you can refuse such children food.

Living is caring. Particularly where children are concerned. That is why The Victoria Daily Times is co-operating with the Unitarian Services Committee and Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova to help feed starving children—in India, in Hong Kong and in Korea. You can help, too.

The committee needs $200,000 from Canadians by Christmas to distribute dried milk made available by the Canadian government.

More than $350 has already been given to the Times' "Milk for Hungry Children" appeal.

ONE WORLD

"Why?" she asked. "Well, I so completely believe in one world—a world which does not yet exist. That is why I want to help these poor children."

Reason enough—and reason enough for us to take a part, too. Donations should be addressed to "Milk for Hungry Children" and sent either to the Times' office at 2631-Douglas of the downtown office on Broad Street. All donations are deductible for income tax purposes.

People and Things

LONDON—"No hard drinking during the ceremony" was the order Tuesday when the Queen Mother opened a new bungalow colony for retired barkeeps.

A ribbon was cut and the Queen Mother strolled round the pleasant rows of little homes. Not a bottle in sight.

Under a marquee she sipped tea with a jolly vintage of old pint pullers, each with more than 20 years' service. At the bar, and their wives. Only occasionally did some of the men's eyes stray to a silk curtain directly behind the Queen Mother's chair.

Fifteen minutes later the royal visitor left the estate of Denham for her London home.

The silk curtain was pulled aside. Crates upon crates of hard liquor was revealed. And 100 pairs of trained hands set to with corkscrew and bottle opener.

Bridge Company Ltd. responsible.

The premier further quoted the chief justice, with regard to the consulting engineers, Swan, Wooster and Partners:

"There was an obligation on the engineers to satisfy themselves that the falsework proposed to be used, complied with the requirements of the specifications."

THEY KNEW

Still quoting Mr. Justice Lett, "When the contractor failed to submit these plans, it was the duty of the (consulting) engineers, to their client, to require from the contractor, their production. This duty the engineers failed to perform."

The chief justice also found fault with the contractor "... in leaving the design of the upper grillage of false bent N4 to a comparatively inexperienced engineer, and failing to provide for adequate or effective checking of the design and the calculations made in connection with the design."

DEMAND PLANS

Main recommendation in the report was that the consulting engineers be required to demand of the contractors all of their proposed plans ... the contractor should not use any temporary works in erection until the engineers have signified that they have completed their examination and have no objection to the contractor's proposals.

Premier Bennett said the latter recommendation "will be immediately implemented." It is a restatement of the contract specifications originally laid down.

The premier also said because of the interest in the inquiry among "professional circles and bridge builders throughout the world, at least volume 1 of the report would be printed. Volume 2 comprises technical exhibits primarily of interest to the engineering profession."

8 INCHES THICK

The report of the chief justice, including a full array of evidence presented to the inquiry, was contained in folders and binders eight inches thick.

Before releasing the report to the press, the premier angrily denounced both a Vancouver Sun editorial and statements by Opposition Leader Strachan, which followed the bridge tragedy.

The editorial called for an immediate investigation and also a check of all other bridge projects completed under the B.C. Toll Bridges and Highways Authority.

"The editorial tried to create public uneasiness and suggested Highways Minister Gagliardi had gone astray," said the premier. "This was a straight smear editorial, trying to smear Mr. Gagliardi."

The premier said, "Never in the history of the province has a government moved so quickly."

"The Sun publisher should resign—that goes for Strachan too."

He quoted a press statement by Mr. Strachan which demanded a full probe into the highways department. "Mr. Strachan said his party felt Mr. Gagliardi, "... as a layman interfered much too much ... out of this interference has come the classic expression that Mr. Gagliardi's ideas are a triumph of imagination over engineering. Is this bridge collapse a result of Mr. Gagliardi's imagination?"

Man Lying On Road When Struck

DUNCAN—An elderly Indian hit by a car on the night of Nov. 22 was lying on the road at the time of the impact, it was revealed Tuesday at an inquest into his death.

The victim, David Tom, 97, was found beside Trans-Canada Highway north of the Cowichan River bridge. He died in an ambulance on the way to hospital.

NO BLAME

Verdict was of accidental death with no blame attached to anyone.

Joseph A. Boyd, Nanaimo High School teacher, testified that he had seen an object on the road, and had swerved his car to avoid it. When he stopped he found the injured man, he said.

Police testified that "unknown" to Boyd, the aged accident victim had been dragged 58 feet.

existed atmosphere at the heights it travelled.

Scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said if the rocket's death followed the predicted timetable it would fall somewhere between Central Europe and the Middle East.

Sputnik itself is expected to continue circling the globe for another year because its more compact shape offers less atmospheric drag.

Dominion Astrophysical Observatory officials here have given reports of all anticipated "visible" passages of the carrier and its satellite, and thousands of Victorians used them as published in The Times to view the two.

As it dashed along its lonely route, the carrier turned end over end. Because of its irregular shape, the sunlight that made it visible was reflected in increasing and decreasing amounts, making it appear to brighten and fade.

Exchange of Governors 'Has Possibilities'—PM

CANBERRA, Australia (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today he sees "beneficial possibilities" in an exchange of Commonwealth citizens as governors-general of various Commonwealth countries.

But at a press conference held within a few hours of his arrival for a five-day Australian tour the Canadian leader declined to comment directly on an Ottawa report that he would like to see Australia Prime Minister Robert Menzies as Canada's next governor-general. Formal talks with Menzies on a number of questions are scheduled for Thursday.

Diefenbaker also said he hopes to make a tour of African Commonwealth members "as soon as conditions permit and opportunities allow." He said he regrets he was unable to visit Africa in his current 54-day world tour.

NEW AWARENESS

He had found in the present tour, whose main portion was spent visiting Asian Commonwealth members, "a new realization of the vitality of the Commonwealth and the necessity for its preservation."

The Canadian premier also denied a press report from Malaysia which one reporter said quoted him as saying Canada favored diplomatic recognition of Communist China.

"I read in Canadian newspapers condemnation because I said the reverse," he said with a smile.

The term of Canada's first native-born governor-general,

Vincent Massey, expires next year following the scheduled summer visit of the Queen and Prince Philip. Diefenbaker said press reports on the possibility of Menzies as Massey's successor were based on conjecture.

However, when asked about the principle of the idea of drawing governors-general from other Commonwealth members, he replied his own view is that there are beneficial possibilities in such a move, bringing closer relationships in the Commonwealth.

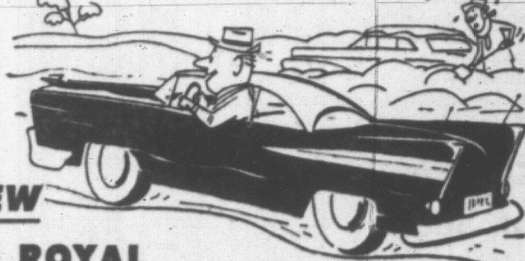

"I see no reason in the years ahead in the development of a vital Commonwealth concept that consideration might not well be given to an interchange of governors-general from other members of the Commonwealth."

Reds Charge 'Blackmail' Over Berlin

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Russia today promised a "corresponding reprisal" against any Western military move over Berlin.

The Soviet army newspaper Red Star carried the statement today in response to a comment issued last weekend by Gen. Harry Nodes, commander of the U.S. army in Europe, that any Communist infringement in West Berlin would be regarded as an attack on the United States.

"It is time that people like Nodes learned that blackmail and threats are not languages in which to speak to the Soviet Union," Red Star said.

"If madmen would try to set off their arms they should be fitted with a strait-jacket."

ALL FOR ONE

The member states of the Warsaw Pact act upon the motto 'one for all and all for one' and any aggressive action against any of them will be considered by all members of the pact as aggression against all and will provoke corresponding reprisal.

Red Star said it would "be real wisdom" on the part of the Western powers "to show readiness in giving West Berlin the status of a demilitarized free city" as proposed by Russia.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said today that the next move on Berlin now is up to the Western powers.

It said the Soviet plan would ease a rapprochement between the two German states and "can in no way infringe on the political and economic interests of the Western powers, if these are correctly understood."

Schooling For Sect Criticized

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—An Alberta government commission opening a study of the Hutterites was told Tuesday children of the German religious sect are denied the best education available.

R. G. Glover presented a brief for Lethbridge school division No. 7 as one of the first witnesses in the four-man committee's first public hearings.

He said: "They (the Hutterites) are Canadian-born children and they are being left in isolation and denied the education which we honestly believe to be the best for Canadian children."

WRONG SYSTEM

The fault lay in the present system under which schools are set up in each Hutterite settlement. With so many schools, the teaching of separate grades was hampered.

Mr. Glover suggested a single Hutterite school should be built outside any existing community and should serve four or five Hutterite settlements within No. 7 division.

Briefs were also presented Tuesday by the Robertson Memorial Branch of the Canadian Legion in Lethbridge and the Writing on Stone local of the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

After the committee winds up its hearings here it will move on to hearings in Calgary Dec. 10 and Edmonton Dec. 15.

CARDINAL, 92, NEAR DEATH

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The condition of 92-year-old Jose Maria Cardinal Caro, the Roman Catholic church's oldest cardinal, grew worse today.

Cardinal Caro, the archbishop of Santiago, took to his bed Monday with an attack of toxic gastroenteritis. Symptoms of uremia and pneumonia developed.

Mass Funeral for 87 Children

CHICAGO (AP)—While anguished parents prepared today to bury 87 children who died with three nuns in Chicago's worst school fire, the cause of the catastrophe still plagued investigators.

That it started in a stairwell in the northeast corner of Our Lady of Angeles Roman Catholic school was generally agreed. The why and the how were theories.

One police arson expert theorized a cigarette flipped carelessly into a pile of trash, a wastebasket or papers may have sparked Monday's blaze.

A school boy sneaking a smoke was one possibility, he said.

Flames might have smoldered for an hour, said Sgt. Drew Brown, and then flashed up the staircase.

RCN OFFICER GETS SEVERE REPRIMAND

HALIFAX (CP)—The former commanding officer of the navy's Algerine escort vessel Portage was given a severe reprimand today after a court martial on three charges of failing to report his ship had touched ground.

Thirty-eight-year-old Lt. Cmdr. Walter Fleming of Saint John, N.B., pleaded guilty to all three charges today.

The ship did not require assistance after any of the occurrences. There were no injuries aboard.

Surprise Attack Defence

GENEVA (AP)—Five Western countries today suggested the establishment of a globe-girdling inspection system to lessen the danger of surprise attack by ballistic missiles.

In a detailed document introduced in the surprise attack conference, the Western powers defined a series of warning methods.

The Soviet bloc countries at the 10-nation conference were urged to join the Western nations in a technical study of the problem. The first Soviet reaction was negative, Western sources said.

The document, submitted by the United States, Britain, Canada, France and Italy, was the second linking inspection systems with specific weapons. The first, introduced Nov. 24, dealt with long-range bombers.

SUGGESTS RADAR

The Western document deals with such instruments as high-level radar and manned inspection systems.

Soviet Gen. A. A. Gryzlov said the Western document failed to make concrete proposals for ending the threat of surprise attack.

He urged the conference to consider the Soviet proposal for establishing vast neutral zones in Central Europe and the Middle East. The Western experts have refused to be drawn into this discussion, saying it is a political question and outside the scope of the conference.

De Gaulle to Oust Army From Control in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle flew to Algeria today to speed his program to halt the Nationalist rebellion. He landed at Constantine on his first stop.

During the five-day visit he was expected to remove Gen. Raoul Salan from control of civil administration in Algeria and to return government control to civilians.

Salan, the French military commander for Algeria, has been in charge of the civil administration as well since the May 13 uprising of right-wing European settlers and army officers that brought de Gaulle to power.

Unofficial reports say de Gaulle will give civil control to Paul Delouvrier, a veteran economist. Salan's aide, Gen.

Bennett Should Testify At Power Probe—Briggs

Premier W. A. C. Bennett should be called to give evidence before the Shrum Royal Commission hearings, dismissed B.C. Power Commission general manager H. Lee Briggs said today.

Mr. Briggs said many of his charges of government undermining of the publicly-owned commission were result of talks in the premier's office, to which the premier should be required to bear witness.

Both the premier and Mr. Briggs have indicated the public feuding between them on power matters will soon be dropped in anticipation of the royal commission findings.

Premier Bennett, Tuesday, declined an invitation to speak to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce public affairs group which heard Mr. Briggs Monday. The premier's secretary reportedly advised the chamber that the premier felt he had covered the subject adequately in press releases and in address to Victoria College students.

Mr. Briggs announced the same day that he would accept no further speaking engagements beyond those now arranged.

"I will go on defending my contentions, but there is a great deal of work ahead of me in preparing briefs for the royal commission."

"I am passing the ball to the people of the province."

Mr. Briggs will address two public meetings, the first of his three-week campaign, tonight at Nanaimo and Thursday at Victoria High School. He said his speeches will recapitulate the charges he has made.

He has also made speaking dates at Chilliwack Friday, where he addresses the Farmers' Union, and at Chemainus, Dec. 13.

He has declined "two or three dozen" other invitations to speak.

The royal commission will hold its first sittings in Vancouver, Dec. 11 and 12 and will reconvene in Victoria Dec. 17 and 18.

Members of the group are Jack Barracough, G. W. O. Baugh Allen, David Cooper, Charles E. Craig, W. G. Gauld, B. C. Gillie, Air Vice-Marshal (ret'd.) Sir Philip Livingstone, Gordon Schenck, Dr. Marian Sherman and M. T. B. Wrixon.

Mr. Briggs described the sponsoring group as "... people who are making it possible for Victorians to hear what's going on."

His topic will be "Public Power in B.C."

Oakalla Term For Young Forger

Sixteen-year-old cheque forger Robert Thornton, Sidney, was sentenced in RCMP court Tuesday to three months definite and 12 months indeterminate at Oakalla jail's young offender's unit.

He pleaded guilty to the charge last week and on Tuesday to two other charges of breaking probation ordered for two convictions for theft under $50 last July.

The same sentence was ordered for each charge, all to be served concurrently.

Thornton, who is nearly 17, was transferred from juvenile court to open court.

Police said he altered a legitimate cheque for $9.25 to read $99.25, and was successful in cashing it at a bank.

WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms or Round-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of these ugly pests, they must be killed in the intestines where they live and multiply. And clinical tests have proved that JAYNE'S Liquid Vermifuge kills both Pin-Worms and Round-Worms quickly and safely. Then they are expelled from the system in a normal manner and you are free of them.

JAYNE'S Liquid Vermifuge has a pleasant, fruity taste. Children love it—take it without fuss or fret. Remember, Pin-Worms and Round-Worms are highly contagious and can spread through the whole family.

So, at the first sign of worms, be sure to ask your druggist for JAYNE'S LIQUID VERMIFUGE.

EUROPE TARIFF CUT EXTENDED

Trade War Averted

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—The ministerial council of the six-nation European Common Market today agreed to extend 10 per cent tariff cuts to all other member states of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The tariff cuts will become effective between common market countries from January 1.

This was revealed by delegation sources when the council broke up for lunch at its meeting here today.

The agreement was reached during the council's discussion on the first item of its agenda—the present stalemate in the free trade area talks.

THREATENS SPLIT

The decision staves off a trade war threatening to split Europe between the ECU on the one hand and the 11 nations, including Britain and Scandinavia, of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation on the other.

The six European Common Market countries are Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

Anxious to avoid being shut out of the six-nation market on January 1, Britain produced a plan to group all 17 member states. But protracted negotiations ended in failure last month largely as a result of Anglo-French differences.

Bennett Praises Highway Policy

Formation of a national highway policy based on recommendations by B.C. Automobile Association was praised Tuesday by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

He said he would gladly attend any conference which the federal-provincial split on costs of other highways.

BCAA could arrange at Ottawa.

The BCAA proposes three-way cost sharing by provincial, federal and municipal governments on construction of limited access roads through urban areas, and a 50-50

Asked if he approved these proposals, the premier said, "I think these people are good people, and our thinking and theirs is not very far apart. I think they are on the right track and I congratulate them on their efforts."

HIT AND RUN

Court Slaps $125 Fines On Autoist

A driver who left an elderly woman pedestrian lying injured in the street was fined a total of $125 in city police court Tuesday.

Hit-run driver Rudolph Varga, 1124 Leonard, was involved in a pedestrian collision on Cook, between Oxford and Suflej, Nov. 2, when Mrs. Elizabeth Traill, 81, of 1024 Pendergast, received a broken pelvis, broken leg and shock.

He pleaded guilty Monday to charges of failing to remain at the scene of an accident, for which he was fined $100 or 30 days, and to driving without a licence, which brought a fine of $25 or five days.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said the terms may be served concurrently.

"This situation is especially serious because you got out of your car and saw this old woman on the road and tried to escape," the magistrate said.

He noted Varga is a young married man with two children and a pregnant wife and added: "I will try to be as lenient as possible, but this sort of thing cannot be condoned."

Varga was chased by another motorist for 11 blocks after the accident and finally jumped from his car and escaped on foot. Police charged him four days later.

Labor Candidate Builds Platform On Employment

Promotion of secondary industries in Greater Victoria "to create new jobs for the unemployed and job opportunities for local youth" is one of six points on which labor's aldermanic candidate A. W. Toone bases his platform for election in the Dec. 11 civic contest.

In an interview Monday Mr. Toone said that if elected he would press also for:

Amalgamation of Victoria and Saanich, if approved by the forthcoming referendum;

Establishment of a university in Victoria;

Expansion of suitable accommodation for senior citizens;

A multi-purpose auditorium, which would be "self-supporting and create jobs";

WORKERS BANNED

"In regard to the last issue," said Mr. Toone, "the present procedure of city council prevents any persons earning a living from attending council meetings."

"Changing the time of council meetings would be an important step toward equal representation, thus bringing city administration more in line with the wishes of the community."

Urging low-rental housing for the aged, Mr. Toone said old age security benefits should be raised and payable at age 65 without a means test on the federal level—"but of course this is federal and provincial responsibility."

AID FOR ELDERLY

He said he was also in favor of free medical and dental treatment, and free drugs, for elderly people.

Mr. Toone added that municipalities, in his opinion, needed "a far better share of provincial and federal funds," and that the Immigration Act "requires overhauling to protect both immigrant and Canadian workers."

"An overabundance of workers does not lead to prosperity," he added, "but straight to hardship, distrust and other relative miseries."

Mr. Toone said he believed public utilities should be publicly-owned, controlled through a commission of the government which has jurisdiction over it, (federal, provincial or municipal).

On the question of Victoria's parking problem, Mr. Toone said "some sort of off-street parking plan and traffic control" scheme was required, such as that recommended by D. J. Faustman in 1956. He agreed "in principle" with the recent Victoria Improvement Plan.

Mr. Toone, 42-year-old secretary-treasurer of Victoria Labor Council, was nominated for city council by Charles Banfield, former alderman.

'What Answer From Russia?' Asks Bennett

If the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors have obtained assurance from Russian authorities that they will be accepted as immigrants in the USSR, they are keeping it a secret from the government of B.C.

"What answer have these people had to their long cable to Russia?" asked Premier Bennett Tuesday. Both the provincial and federal governments have agreed to assist in moving and settling the immigrants, provided they show proof they will be accepted in the country of their choice.

Yeggs Started $500,000 Fire

BELLEVEILLE (CP)—Police said Monday that safecrackers started a $500,000 fire on Saturday which exploded propane gas tanks and burned down an appliance store and furniture shop.

Hake, large fish found on both Atlantic and Pacific coasts, is a relative of the codfish.

Parking Bylaw Criticized

City council candidate Elgin Neish Tuesday urged ratepayers to reject the off-street parking plan.

Mr. Neish, a commercial fisherman, said there "is no need" for the $1,000,000 money bylaw submitted to owner-electors for approval Dec. 11. "City council has ample funds available. Let them use the present meter revenue ($120,000 last year) and make a levy against those downtown business properties which will benefit from the new facilities," he said.

(Present meter revenues are funnelled into general revenue to keep the mill rate down.)

Mr. Neish also said council should "look for some other method used by other cities who have not had to borrow or raise meter rates to build off-street parking." He did not indicate what those methods were.

Action Asked To Control Floodwaters

ALBERNI — Residents here are demanding that city authorities act to prevent a repetition of the flooding in the Alberni Valley which forced evacuation of 25 homes in Kitsucks Creek area Monday.

Floods are becoming an annual event and cost thousands of dollars each year, they claim.

The council will ask for government assistance, and already has asked the highways department to survey a part of the area.

Rains have now lessened and flood threats on the island have abated.

The weather office reported 15.2 inches of rain fell here during the week-end, shattering an 18-year record.

FAMILIES RETURN

All logging operations in the mid-island area have resumed operations after shutting down for a few hours or more than a day because of the rain, and the families evacuated from their homes Monday have returned.

Police have identified William Moxon, 85, as the resident here who died of a heart attack at his home after hearing a false report over the local radio station that nearby Elsie Lake dam was liable to collapse during a heavy rainfall.

Mr. Moxon, police said, died while attempting to evacuate his home.

British Columbia Power Commission officials checked the dam and found it to be sound.

NANAIMO (CP)—Nanaimo district escaped the flood and storm damage which caused trouble on the Mainland and in the Alberni area, although close to three inches of rain fell in 54 hours.

Two auto courts on the shores of the Nanaimo River were threatened for a time but the flood danger, there was reported to have passed late Tuesday.

Funeral Held For 38-Year-Old Former Teacher

DUNCAN—Funeral services were held here Tuesday for Mrs. Jean Cicely Gillatt, 38, who died Sunday in King's Daughters' Hospital.

Born in Penticton, she had taught at Mayne Island, Sooke, Courtenay, and Victoria. Since her marriage in Victoria in 1956 she had lived in Duncan.

Surviving are the husband, John, principal of Duncan Elementary School; an infant daughter, Susan Patricia; two sisters, Miss Rosamond Laidman, Victoria, and Miss Edith Laidman, Warsaw, Poland; and two brothers, Richard and Lawrence Laidman, Penticton.

'Miracle' Escape From Sunken Car

SQUAMISH, B.C. (CP)—Vernon Tanner, 22, of Nanaimo, describes his escape from a submerged car, in which two companions died, as a miracle. "I guess it was a miracle," he said in hospital here Tuesday. "There's no other word for it." Mr. Tanner said his car skidded on the slippery government wharf here Monday night.

"We shot over the log at the end and landed upside down in the water."

"About halfway down I managed to force the door open and get out. I just made it to the top in time. I thought I'd had it."

He said he held onto a nearby piling until crewmen of a tug threw him a line.

"I don't know what happened to the others," Mr. Tanner said. Killed were Gary Price, 17, and John MacDonald, 22, both of Squamish.

Skin divers recovered Price's body Tuesday. The search for the other man was continuing.

SPENCER HAD TROUBLE WITH THESE TWO

Biggest tormentors of Aces' goalie Spencer Simmons in feature game of Tuesday night's Commercial Hockey League doubleheader at Memorial Arena were Joe Tanner and Cliff Uhren, who collected total of five goals as Navy clipped Aces, 6-4. Simmons is shown moving out in vain attempt to block shot that resulted in Tanner's second goal and 3-0 first-period lead for Tars. Uhren, in background with "A" on sweater, rapped in three tallies. SIDELINE SLANTS

BY

Doug Peden

You happened to have your money riding on Tiger-Cats, just about the brightest thing that happened over in Vancouver Saturday was the scalping of a lot of scalpers.

Even if you collected along with the Blue Bombers, there was some extra satisfaction in knowing that some of the guys who had bought up blocks of Grey Cup ducats with the idea of turning a few easy bucks at the expense of football fans had their financial forelocks removed.

Tickets to the grid classic were selling at up to three times their face value in impromptu street-corner auctions in Vancouver a week before the big game.

Friday they were easy to acquire at regular prices, shortly before the kickoff at Empire Stadium they were going at cut rates, and once the battle was under way—before only 34,426 fans—tickets could be had for the asking outside the gates.

Unfortunately, it wasn't only the quick-buck boys who got burned. A surprising number of fans got caught with their wallets down because they snatched up extra tickets at the request of friends, who returned the favor by not turning up.

Since it resulted in tickets going to waste or being offered for half price—while many fans who would have swapped the family silver for a seat in the stadium watched Canada's greatest sports spectacle on television because they were unable to buy tickets in advance through regular channels—the archaic system of ticket distribution used by the Canadian Football League should be towed into the meeting room and hauled.

Fans Have to Know Ahead of Time

This is how the method worked this time: There were 34,666 seat tickets distributed for the game. Of these, B.C. Lions received 11,436, plus all the 6,700 standing-room ducats.

The remainder of the seat tickets—23,230—were doled out among the other eight professional football teams in Canada, to the Ontario Rugby Football Union, to officials, football organizations and to amateur circuits.

These tickets are sold to the organizations outright without provision for return of unsold tickets. They pay for a certain number and dispose of them as they choose.

This time, Winnipeg Blue Bombers ended up with 300 unsold ducats and dumped them on the Vancouver market Friday morning.

Only about 2,000 of this year's standing-room tickets were bought and more than 2,000 paid-up ducats were not used. There was space for another 6,500 spectators.

The system is as outmoded as the flying wedge. A good number of Victorians made connections and obtained tickets. Many more wanted desperately to attend the classic, but you can't just up and go to a Grey Cup city on the chance of obtaining tickets. Arrangements for transportation and hotel accommodation must be made well in advance. Thus, many Victoria fans were foolishly denied the opportunity of seeing the Winnipeg beat the Hamiltons.

There is no doubt that the shortcoming of the system will be discussed at the next CFL meeting. However, there is a greater possibility that a television blackout in the vicinity of the Canadian football final will be advocated before the distribution method is changed.

It's Nice Work, and the CFL Has It

Of course, the way things stand now, the CFL is sitting pretty. Saturday's empty seats didn't represent lost revenue. The CFL merely sends out tickets to football organizations and collects the cash. Selling is up to the various clubs and leagues. It's nice work if you can get it, and the CFL has it.

However, it says here that if Bert Bell, commissioner and big stick man of the U.S. pro loop, was running the Canadian show, he'd toss the Grey Cup ticket setup out the nearest window. Sydney Halter, the CFL commissioner, is gaining dubious fame for his "We're doing all right; let's leave things as they are" policies and will probably let things ride along as they are.

Bell runs his National Football League strictly for the fans. It's time Sydney and his boys followed suit.

Eastern fans in Vancouver and western supporters at Toronto are the backbone of the color and spirit of the Grey Cup classic. The game needs them, but it's a weird system that gives only one-third of the seats tickets to the host province.

Some day, the Grey Cup big-wigs will scrap the worn-out method. They'll even stage the game as a big-time professional operation, with a realistic priority system for out-of-town fans and the majority tickets placed for public disposal on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Grey Cup argument will be back at Empire Stadium in two years. That gives the CFL lots of time to do some serious thinking and get to work on ticket problems. Start thinking, gentlemen.

'PEG MAY SEEK PLAYERS . . . IF PIKE TAKES LEAF JOB

But Would Alf Be Stepping Up?

By Canadian Press

Toronto Maple Leafs, who haven't managed to create much excitement on the ice since the National Hockey League's 1958-59 season began, are having better luck with their front office manoeuvres.

Leafs fired coach Billy Reay last Friday after spending the early part of the season fumbling around in last place.

Left winger Bert Olmstead was named playing-coach of the club in the interim between firing Reay and hiring a new man, but it was no secret that general manager George (Punch) Imlach was coach in everything but name during the Leafs' two weekend games.

Tuesday night, Toronto rumors had it that no new coach would be hired, until next season.

But The Toronto Globe and Mail, interviewing Imlach in Montreal, where his Leafs are preparing to meet Canadiens Thursday, quotes him as saying the post will be offered to Alf Pike of the Winnipeg Warriors in the Western Hockey League.

"I plan to talk to Pike in the next day or so," The Globe quotes Imlach as saying.

"Whether we can reach an agreement or not remains to be seen. First of all I want to find out if he is interested."

In Winnipeg, Pike said only that he had not heard from Imlach.

The Globe says a possible stumbling block might be a Warrior demand for one or more players in return for Pike's contract.

Among other names being bruited about as contenders for the unenviable task of trying to better Leafs' fortunes are three old-time Leaf stars—Walter (Turk) Broda, Charlie Conacher and Ted Kennedy.

Whoever is picked will be inheriting one of the shakiest positions in the NHL. Since Clarence (Hap) Day retired in 1950 after nine full seasons, the Leafs have had four coaches. And the new coach will take over a squad that this season has shown no point scorers, a woeful defence and only adequate goal tending; three insuperable obstacles for any mortal coach.

Sailors Score Third Straight

Navy continued their winning ways in Memorial Arena Tuesday night before 1,000 fans as they defeated Aces, 6-4, for their third straight win in the Commercial Hockey League.

Vics tripped Army, 5-3, in the opening game of the scheduled doubleheader.

The result moved Navy three points ahead of Aces and Vics, tied for second place with three points each. Army remains in the league cellar, still looking for their first win.

Cliff Uhren and Joe Tanner, figuring in six goals, sparked for the Navy win. Uhren scored three goals while Tanner tallied twice and also added an assist.

In the opener, between Vics and Army, there were 17 minutes in penalties called, all in the final two frames. Wally Harris set the pace with two goals while other Vics scorers were Norm Kowalyk, Art Green and Bob Fowler.

Ashworth, Peskette and Mitchell tallied for Army.

Next games will be played Saturday between Aces and Vics, at 7:30 p.m., and Army and Navy, at 9.

Tee Topics

By GRAHAM COX

Unless the weatherman has a change of heart, golfers are heading for a soggy Saturday and a sloppy Sunday in a pair of weekend competitions.

One, a city Open button match, will, weather permitting, be played over the Victoria Golf Club links Sunday. Gorge Vale's junior pair, Jim McCall and Roy Chappell, lifted the lapel decorations from clubmates Mela Carlow and Norm Boden last Sunday at Uplands.

This week they will be facing the Colwood duo of professional Bill Court, out after a two-year retirement from button battles, and Mike Bartkow. That match starts at 12.30 p.m.

Fifteen minutes behind the seniors, Juniors Noel and Dale Dalziel of Uplands will be challenging Al McLeod and Bill Wakeham of Gorge Vale, also at Oak Bay.

The Gorge pair defended against Oak Bay's Bill Carlow and Al Manson, gaining a 5 and 4 victory.

A replay of part of last Saturday's turkey competition is slated at Oak Bay Saturday.

Winner of the event was Dal Hawkshaw, who beat par 4 up to take a bird, but there was a four-way tie for second place, which will be decided in the replay.

Those called on to try again in competition for their Christmas dinner are Art Baker, C. Parrott, W. F. Pinfold and L. B. Williams, all of whom recorded 3-up scores.

All Victoria golfers were sorry to learn of the sudden illness of Uplands assistant pro Johnny Wren, who suffered a heart attack Sunday at the pro shop.

Johnny has been the right hand of professional Walt Gravlin for 33 of his 51 years, and will be sorely missed while laid up in hospital.

A check with St. Joseph's Hospital today disclosed that he was resting quietly but will not be allowed visitors for a few days.

We would like to join all of his other friends in wishing John a speedy recovery.

Miss Mary Campbell was elected captain of the women's division of Victoria Golf Club at their annual meeting last week, with Mrs. Harold Husband elected vice-captain.

Secretary-treasurer for the coming season will be Mrs. F. Morris while committee members are Mrs. W. A. R. Hadley, Mrs. L. E. Pope, Mrs. G. Barclay and Mrs. C. Chapman.

The only major activity of the week at Gorge Vale was the playing of the annual Sharland Cup match, won by George Murphy with a net 67. Low gross was carded by John Merriman with 70.

Three other entrants, F. Worsley, F. Gallimore and L. Atkinson, were tied for runner-up low-net honors at 68.

Brown in Slump, But Still Leading

PHILADELPHIA (CP) — Cleveland's Jimmy Brown, who holds the National Football League's rushing record, is in a slump and the word is that the defenses might have caught up with him.

However, despite the fact he didn't score in last Sunday's Cleveland victory over Washington and picked up only 12 miserable yards along the ground, he's still the NFL's ground-gaining leader.

The brilliant back has a record 1,241 yards, 95 better than Steve Van Buren's old mark. He still leads the individual scoring with 102 points.

MOORE SECOND

Baltimore's Lenny Moore scored once last Sunday to take second place with 78 points.

In ground-gaining, Alan Ameche of Baltimore is behind Brown with 685 yards, five more than Joe Perry of San Francisco, league statistics released today showed.

Ski Champion Best Athlete

VANCOUVER (CP) — Lucille Wheeler has been named Canada's outstanding woman amateur athlete by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada at its 65th annual meeting.

The 23-year-old Ste. Jovite, Que., ski champion was also given Tuesday night the AAU's nomination for the Lou Marsh Trophy awarded annually to Canada's most outstanding athlete, professional or amateur.

Miss Wheeler was the first Canadian skier to gain an Olympic medal, winning a bronze medal for her third-place finish in the slalom event at the 1954 Winter Olympics.

DOUBLE VICTORY

It was her double victory in the world ski championships last winter in Austria that pushed the petite Quebec skier into national prominence. She won the downhill and the giant slalom and placed second in the combined.

Gordon Dickson, 26-year-old Hamilton Athletic Club marathoner, was named Canada's outstanding male amateur athlete and the outstanding performer in track events, winning both the Norton H. Crowe and the Davies Trophies.

Jack Smyth, 22, Winnipeg, was named winner of the Rowell Trophy as Canada's outstanding field athlete; Eleanor Haslam, 18, Saskatoon, receives the Tees Trophy as the top university athlete; Richard Raw, 19, Windsor, Ont., the Viscount Alexander Trophy as the top junior amateur athlete, and Freya Berman, 16, Vancouver, the Myrtle McGowan Cook Trophy as the outstanding junior woman amateur athlete.

Randy Youngman, 17, Glenora, Alta., was named Canada's outstanding Indian athlete and winner of the Tom Longboat Trophy. He is the eldest in a family of 10 children.

Miss Wheeler's selection as the outstanding woman athlete gives her the Velma Springstead Trophy.

Dickson finished fifth in the Empire Games marathon at Cardiff with a time of 2:28:42, despite severe stomach cramps.

In winning his way to the BEG, he captured the Canadian trials in 2:21:50.5, almost 15 minutes ahead of his nearest rival. He captured eight of nine marathons entered in the last year, losing only in the BEG.

Raw is a student at the University of Michigan. Although still a junior he has ranked high in open events. He placed second in the hop, step and jump at the Saskatoon trials. Smyth, with a leap of 51 feet 5½ inches in the hop, step and jump at the Empire Games, shattered the old mark and was good enough for a silver medal and second place.

The Steelers' quarterback has attempted 213 passes and completed 104 for 1,792 yards, while Lebaron has thrown 128 and completed 72 for 1,181 yards. Each has fired 10 touchdown passes.

Harridge's Resignation Adds to Bosses' Woes

(From AP, UPI Reports)

WASHINGTON — Will Harridge submitted his resignation as president of the American League today and a committee was appointed to find his successor.

Speculation was that Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, was the leading candidate to succeed the 72-year-old Harridge, who has served as president since 1931.

Harridge said he was not resigning because of his health or because of any criticism of his office, but it was known that the American League for some time was thinking about bringing in a younger man.

VOLUNTARY MOVE

"This is all voluntary and I am doing this only in the interest of the American League," said Harridge. "My health is perfect, but the owners are entitled to the benefits of a younger man."

His decision came as baseball bosses formed an angry, unfired front against the major league players' bid for a cut of the owners' income and minor leaguers' demands for a pension plan.

The big league players, already bulwarked by a pension plan supported by world series radio and television money, jolted their employers Tuesday with a salary proposal calling for 20 per cent of each club's gross revenue.

At the same time, International League executives were shocked by the threat of a strike by their players following the officials' refusal to buckle to an ultimatum by the athletes' lawyer.

ULTIMATUM

"You will accept the pension plan or you will not have International League baseball," attorney James Durante was reported as saying.

"The International League directors are fully sympathetic to the players' request," said Frank Horton, president of Rochester Red-Wings, who reported Durante's words.

But Horton added the directors "could find no way within the economic framework of the league to raise the more than $250,000 to underwrite a pension plan."

Durante had informed the International League the players resolved not to sign 1959 contracts nor to report to spring training until the pension plan was accepted.

The proposed plan, as outlined by Durante, would cost $293,000 annually. Players would pay $37,000 ($1.50 a day for each player), with the league putting up the remaining $256,000, or $32,000 a club. If the players make good their threat, it will mark the first all-league strike in the history of baseball.

Although no such threat hovered over the major leagues, owners were seething over what they called "unthinkable and unreasonable demands" by players.

General manager Frank Lane, of Cleveland Indians, said there isn't a chance owners will give in to the demands. Earlier, the players changed tactics when their attorney, J. Norman Lewis, and their 16-team representatives withdrew their original request for 25 per cent of the regular-season radio and television receipts.

The players then shot back with a plan of 20 per cent of gross receipts. The owners asked for time to consider it.

INJURED BRUIN STARS START SKATING TODAY

BOSTON (AP)—Doctors removed the wires Tuesday from the fractured jaws of Boston Bruins' Bronco Horvath and Doug Mohns.

Their jaws were fractured in a National Hockey League game at Toronto Oct. 28. Latest X-rays showed both injuries mending properly. Horvath and Mohns will resume skating today and may be back in the lineup in a fortnight.

Mohns will wear a specially constructed face mask he used last season after a similar injury. One like it is being made for Horvath.

Ball Brass Raps 'Crazy Handouts'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A battle between the haves and have-nots over baseball's bonus and draft practices built up to its first showdown at the major-minor league meetings today.

The minors scheduled a vote on three proposals designed in different fashion to reduce what commissioner Ford Frick has described as crazy handouts of thousands of dollars in bonuses to young players.

Major league clubs will pass the final word later this week when the issue reaches them. They were expected to exert influence over their minor affiliates today.

Proposals up for decision by the 24 minor leagues would:

Cadets Boost Soccer Lead

In their final game of the Intercollegiate Soccer League schedule Monday, HMCS Venture cadets drubbed Pacific Naval Lab, 5-0, take a three-point league lead over Victoria College.

Now the cadets must wait to see if the College can overcome the edge in the two games remaining on the students' schedule.

Chris Vanderwel paced the Venture with two goals. Single goals were scored by Bill Hackert, Vandeneuvel and Nethercott.

Whitby Leaves Field Open to Dutchmen

KITCHENER, Ont. (UPI)

—Any hope Whitby Dunlops had of providing the Canadian Olympic hockey team of 1960 vanished today with a rejection from the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen that the two teams unite to provide international competition.

Coach Wren Blair of the Dunlops said Tuesday that he had suggested the Dutchmen join forces with his team, but they had refused. Blair announced that his team was withdrawing its application to represent Canada in the games.

The Dutchmen, who were beaten 2-0 by the Russians in the final of the 1956 Olympics, considered themselves well fixed for players and Oscar Wiles, club president, said, "We decided that we would either do it alone or not at all."

Dutchmen, in an attempt to rebuild for the 1960 competition, have added six new young players from the junior ranks, and now stands second in the Ontario Senior League. Their average was more than five goals a game this season.

Slugging Swede Has Sights on Title Bout

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)

—Sweden's Ingemar Johansson is aiming for a title fight with world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and has no intention of fighting Eddie Machen again, Johansson's adviser said Tuesday.

Promoter Edwin Ahlquist reiterated that any contract the International Boxing Club has for Johansson, the undefeated European champion, to meet Machen in Chicago, is invalid.

REDS ON BEAM EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—The touring Russian hockey team defeated Edinburgh Royals 10-3 Tuesday night.

The Illinois Athletic Commission Monday approved the IBC's proposed Johansson-Machen rematch for the Chicago Stadium, Feb. 4. Johansson knocked out Machen in the first round at Goteborg Sept. 14.

Ahlquist said he signed a contract for the fight "under duress."

He said he thinks the IBC "is trying to break down the negotiations with Cus d'Amato on a world title fight."

Ahlquist and Johansson met with d'Amato, Patterson's manager, and Patterson in New York last week to discuss a title match. Nothing definite was settled, both parties said.

There's Flavor In Kid's Story

By OSCAR FRALEY

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—In these days when there is a shortage of box fighters, promoters could do worse than lure a fierce, scowling young man named Toluco Lopez out of the high plateau country of Mexico and onto the admiring airways.

Toluco is the bantamweight champion of Mexico. He is just as fierce as he looks and he fights with all the abandon of one of his Indian ancestors carving up a Conquistador.

The only trouble is that Lopez won't lure.

HOME-LOVER

Broad-shouldered young Toluco, who is figured by the Aztec calendar to be somewhere in his very early 20's, hates the United States. Or any other place except the barren, high plateau country inhabited by his Otomi tribe.

Those other places have no terrillas. They have no enchiladas. They have no guitar music and no maiahi bands. And they have no pulque.

Most of all no pulque.

This deadly drinking delicacy is made from the juice of the maguay cactus and it figures largely in every trial and all the tribulations of the Otomis in general and Toluco in particular. It is the reason, actually, that he began to fight when he was strictly a youngster.

POTENT BREW

Seems that Toluco's mother doted on an occasional drop of the crathur, a cross between Missouri mule and Carolina corn with a bit of nitroglycerin added, when he was barely old enough to rush the growler.

The local characters who had a thirst but no pesos, tried to intercept Toluco on his way to the pulqueria and relieve him of the few centavos he was clutching in his hot little fist. When the little Lopez lad fought back, it felt as if he was packing a whole roll of dimes in his grubby paw.

He still has that punch. And he still visits the pulqueria.

A while back he decided Billy Peacock at Tia Juana and they were rematched to fight in Los Angeles. When it came time to catch the plane, Toluco was missing. His manager rushed hurriedly to Toluco's village and there found his gladiator taking a bath—in a pulqueria and in a barrel of pulque.

LIKE SWIMMING!

Toluco would submerge to his neck, then, giggling like a high school freshman ducking for apples at the senior prom, would submerge himself completely. They finally bailed him out, blotted off the pulque they could reach and rushed him to Los Angeles.

There, despite the inevitable osmosis in the barrel, Toluco flattened Peacock quicker than you can learn to spell pulque.

Lopez is the type of man who, because he is, to put it lightly, a bit "different," would be a whale of an attraction on the picture box. He

Confident Champ Picks the Round

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I'll knock him out—in the third." This was welterweight confident prediction of the outcome of his title bout here Friday with Don Jordan.

Akins' comment was in reply to reporters' questions at a luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles Boxing Writers.

The writers and their guests gave Akins an 8-to-7 edge in a straw vote.

Jordan wasn't around to make his own prediction. While Akins was socializing, the Los Angeles boxer was at his Gilman Hot Springs ranch, winding up his training program.

FRESNO, Calif.—Frankie Helma, 190, Wilmington, Calif., and Art Aragon, 184, Los Angeles, drew, 10.

Three Canadians On Top Ring List

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Two boxers from the Maritimes and one from Montreal were the only Canadians mentioned today when the National Boxing Association issued its monthly rankings.

The NBA's boxer-of-the-month award went to Chicago's Spider Webb, who stopped Joey Giardello at San Francisco Nov. 20 in the only major bout staged in November.

Yvon Durelle, training at Montreal for his Dec. 10 title fight there with light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore, retained his third-contender ranking, the only Canadian actually ranked in the top 10 in any class.

The NBA listed lightweight Jackie Hayden of Westville, N.S., among a handful of "outstanding prospects" such as heavyweight Don Hodge of Wichita, Kan., and bantamweight Pat Supple of Montreal.

The December ratings:

Heavyweight—Champion, Floyd Patterson; 1. Ingemar Johansson, Sweden; 2. Brian London, England; 3. Zora Foley; 4. Nino Valdez, Cuba; 5. Willie Pastrano.

Light-heavyweight—Champion, Archie Moore; 1. Tony Anthony; 2. Harold Johnson; 3. Yvon Durelle; 4. Eric Schopper, Germany; 5. Mike Mott, South Africa.

Middleweight—Champion, Ray Robinson; 1. Carmen Basilio; 2. Gene Fullmer; 3. Spider Webb; 4. Joey Giardello; 5. Gustav Scholz, Germany.

Welterweight—Champion, Virgil Akins; 1. Don Jordan; 2. Vince Martinez; 3. Sugar Hart.

Lightweight—Champion, Joe Brown; 1. Carlos Ortiz; 2. Dullio Loi, Italy; 4. Kenny Lane.

'Never Say Die' Jack's Attitude

MELBOURNE (AP)—Jack Kramer's answer to the ban imposed on his professionals by the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia is a 24-ton portable court, which he says may revolutionize the game.

The action of shutting me out of the big tennis stadiums down here may prove a blessing in disguise," the American promoter said Tuesday. "We now are working on something which may change the whole face of the tour."

The "something" is a special plasticized plywood court.

WORST YET TO COME DOWN UNDER

Few Unemployed in New Zealand

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — New Zealand is in the grip of the worst recession since the war. But the total number of unemployed throughout the country is only 1,133.

New Zealand has been severely hit by the worldwide economic setback. The country depends for prosperity almost entirely on world market prices for wool, dairy produce and meat.

Of these, wool and dairy produce have dropped drastically in price and so far show little recovery. Only meat among New Zealand's major exports is selling well. The result has been a heavy rundown in New Zealand overseas exchange, heavy cuts in imports, sharply increased taxes and a thoroughly gloomy outlook throughout industry and agriculture.

Farmers have much less to spend, business is retrenching drastically, importers and stores have less to sell.

By ordinary standards unemployment might by now be more severe than in the northern hemisphere. In fact it is at present about 0.13 per cent of the labor force — only a small fraction of the figure in the United States, Canada, Britain, or even nearby Australia.

—Even more strange, although the worst effects of the recession are believed still to come, employment has shown a rise within the last month. At the end of September the national total of unemployed stood at 1,501. In the last month it has dropped by 368 to the current figure of 1,133. And of those 1,133, only 597 have been out of work long enough to qualify for unemployment benefits.

The reason for New Zealand's great resistance to unemployment in face of a severe economic recession is believed to be the state of full employment which has prevailed since the war.

For more than a decade there have been many thousands of vacant jobs with no one available to fill them, and unemployment until the last year or two has been non-existent.

The recession so far has done no more than wipe out some of the heavy job surplus.

'Satellite' Stocks Popular at New York

Buying developed on the New York market today in a handful of stocks related to the U.S. satellite program but the bulk of the issues remained down in late afternoon trading.

Lockheed ran ahead a point following news the U.S. plans to shoot new experimental satellites this year.

Major groups in which most stocks had a lower trend included steels, autos, metals and rails.

Gold was narrowly ahead but the rest of the Toronto market slipped lower today in late afternoon trading.

AT TORONTO Southern Union was up 1/2 cent at 43 cents. New York was off 9 cents at 92 cents. North Carolina gained 6 cents at 34 cents and Wiltsey was up 2 1/2 cents at 21 cents. These are speculatives.

Among industrials, refining oils and pipelines were down, while steels, motors, foods and banks were mixed. Dominion Stores eased 1/4 at 80 and 1-point losses went to Canadian Fairbanks, General Dynamics and General Motors. Consolidated Paper and General Motors each lost 1/4, Canadian Tire, led winners, up 2 at 128.

Hudson Bay was the major loser among base metals, off 1/2 at 56. All seniors coppers were easier as Geco lost 1/4 at 16 1/2 and International Nickel dipped 1/4 at 83.

Gold gained as Hollinger added 1/4 at 29 1/2 and Kerr-Adair advanced 1/4 at 18 1/2. Dome was off 1/4 at 16 1/2. Pacific Pete was off 1/4 at 16 1/2 in western oils.

AT NEW YORK International Nickel was off 1/4 in the Canadian section. Other issues were also marked down but by small fractions.

Canadian prices were mixed on the American stock exchange. Shawinigan and Jupiter Oils gained, Preston East Dome and Fargo Oil fell.

AT MONTREAL prices were lower in moderately active trading early today on the stock exchange.

The base metals were lower, with Hudson Bay off 2 1/2 at 55 1/2. Asbestos declined 1/4 at 34 1/2 and Noranda was off 1/4 at 51 1/2.

AT VANCOUVER prices were off at a light trading session during the forenoon. Vantor moved 5,300 at $108. Capital Estates traded 2,000 at $9.50; Trojan moved 2,000 at $10.23, 749 the previous fiscal year.

The per-share earnings were $1.33 this year compared with $1.93 the previous year. Depreciation allowances in 1958 amounted to $8,109,327, against $10,233,749 the previous fiscal year.

Board chairman J. V. Cline blamed lower prices, unsettled markets and labor disputes for a decrease in sales to $161,000,000 from $170,000,000.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures were weak most of the time on the Board of Trade today.

Wheat was especially resistant to continued good bakery demand and a sale overnight of more than 5,500,000 bushels to India. This business was largely ignored because of reports that wheat in the southwest has been moving into commercial channels, in considerably larger volume the last few days.

Winnipeg (CP)—Fair export business in barley was reported today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange with the United Kingdom credited with buying a considerable quantity in parcel lots.

The reports found only minor reflection in trading, however, and oats and barley business was generally domestic. Prices moved narrowly.

Flax prices showed hesitation in irregular trading. Rye was quiet, with prices steady.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: United Kingdom, 1,300,000 bushels; Japan, 735,000; Pakistan, 345,000; Ireland, 110,000; and Norway, a small lot.

Class 2, IWA and domestic prices, basis lakehead, all were 1 cent higher than Tuesday's prices.

ROYAL BANK DIRECTOR

The Royal Bank of Canada has announced the appointment of Graham F. Towers, C.M.G., former Governor, Bank of Canada, to its Board of Directors.

Mr. Towers is Chairman of the Investment Fund Ltd., Canadian Fund Inc. and B.P. Canada Ltd., and a Director of The Canada Life Assurance Co. The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, General Motors Corp., Moore Corp. and Hudson's Bay Company. Prior to 1934, when he was named the first Governor of the Bank of Canada, he was an Assistant General Manager of the Royal Bank.

$8 Million Profit Reported by M & B

VANCOUVER (CP)—MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. reported net profit Tuesday for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30 of $8,109,327, down more than one-fifth from the $10,233,749 profit reported in the previous fiscal year.

The per-share earnings were $1.33 this year compared with $1.93 the previous year. Depreciation allowances in 1958 amounted to $8,109,327, against $10,233,749 the previous fiscal year.

Board chairman J. V. Cline blamed lower prices, unsettled markets and labor disputes for a decrease in sales to $161,000,000 from $170,000,000.

Inflation Warning By BNS President

HALIFAX (CP)—Inflation is not inevitable, but responsible attitudes are required to prevent it, C. Sydney Frost, president of the Bank of Nova Scotia, said today at the bank's annual meeting.

Such attitudes and actions, he stated, must be taken towards wages and prices, and towards government fiscal and monetary policy. He indicated upward pressure on prices in the months ahead is not likely to be great—even with a strengthening in business activity—and food prices in particular seem likely to level out or even decline.

The danger lay in the longer-term—perhaps the next two or three years.

Mr. Frost said the Canadian level of business this year had been fairly well maintained—considerably better than in the United States.

Unemployment, however, would be a serious problem this winter; exports, which had held up well, might show some decline and private capital outlays were expected to contract further.

"The probability," said Mr. Frost, "seems to be a level of activity in 1959 only moderately higher than in 1958."

In a stabilization program, Mr. Frost said, people must be willing to accept periods of credit restraint when necessary and governments must have the courage to budget for surpluses in active periods in order to be in a position to run necessary deficits in times of recession.

LEWIS WINS PAY BOOST FOR MINERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis Tuesday won a two-stage, $2-a-day wage boost for the 180,000 soft coal miners in the U.S. Reliable sources said the agreement was reached for signing today between Lewis, boss of the United Mine Workers, and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, major industry bargaining group.

Under the agreement the miners, now working for a $22.25 basic daily wage, will get a $1.20-a-day raise Jan. 1 and another 80-cent increase next April 1.

Doney Given Seventh Term By Farmers

Success of the 80-year-old organization in B.C.'s centennial year was the theme of the annual report of president Albert Doney to the recent annual meeting of North and South Saanich Agricultural Society at Saanichton.

Recalling the society's record of past achievements, he termed the 1958 fair and exhibition "one of our most successful ever."

The society looked forward, he added, to even better years ahead.

Elected for the 1958-59 year were:

President Doney (for his seventh term); first vice-president, Henry Robinson; second vice-president, G. F. Aitken; secretary, A. C. Howe; and treasurer, Stuart Stoddart.

Added to the directors were C. J. Reiner, R. G. Glidden, Bert Andrews, A. Bowker, L. M. Biks and Joseph Taylor. H. C. Oldfield and Frank Butler became honorary patrons. D. Nightingale was appointed to the grounds committee.

Special mention was made of the women's branch for work done during the year. It was urged they appoint their own convener and directors.

'Tea-Cosy' Dome Boon For That Winter Job

By HAL MALONE
Times Business Editor

Winter house construction in Canada has never been looked upon by carpenters as anything more than an excellent way to encourage pneumonia or at least a seasonal running nose.

The reason is obvious. Apart from Victoria where the sun shines monotonously when it doesn't appear in liquid form the rest of the country rarely enjoys weather calculated to give carpenters an overdose of sunburn.

In some parts of the country there's a nasty rumor that carpenters have been known to freeze to the framework in November.

Some of them, it is said, don't return to their families until spring thaw. Others are never discovered and are ultimately covered over by the stucco men, leaving unsightly bumps in the finished product.

On the prairies, many carpenters have been known to hibernate in billiard rooms and other cultural centres as soon as the frost is on the pumpkin. All these pursuits, alas, may be at an end, courtesy of National Research Council engineers. They have been experimenting with a sort of polythene "tea-cosy" dome draped over laminated arches. The affair goes up the day construction of a house starts.

Tarpaulins at either end of the dome permit entry of building materials and two propane heaters maintain an even temperature in case some dimwit leaves the door open.

Engineers found the polythene cosy allowed the sun's rays to slip through, keeping the inside temperature 45 degrees warmer than that outside. Even on cloudy days, a 20-degree temperature difference was noted.

Workmen Shedded Their 'Long Johns'

In the first test at Ottawa, tradesmen shedded their "long Johns" and worked in shirt sleeves. Outside the cosy, 50-mile-an-hour winds shrieked but made no impression on the dome's countenance. It even withstood 10 inches of wet snow.

So impressed was one firm that it has decided to construct a dome in sections so it can be moved without damage. The company feels that if the dome can be used 10 times in a winter, additional cost per development-type house will be about $100.

Greater savings, or earnings, will be realized by carpenters and other tradesmen. No longer will they sneeze at "glass houses." After all, who sneezes at money?

B.C. Power Commission is now serving the tiny, ranching community of Nicola, about seven miles northeast of Merritt. Settled in 1858, Nicola is a true pioneer town. Its first school was built in 1883 and travelers moved in and out by stagecoach until 1907, when the first train, puffed in, Nicola's 30 power users have been served by a small hydro plant from the Nicola Stock Farm, a rootin'-tootin' western ranch with 2,500 head of cattle, 1,500 sheep and 25 hands.

Police Chief Points Finger at "Protection" Racket

"It's time someone spoke up," says Police Chief Charles St-Amour, Montreal North. "Protection only exists when it covers all possibilities. And the best example of that is anti-freeze. Sure, lots of people say that almost anything will give your car winter protection. But for me there's only one brand of anti-freeze that does the complete job. That's 'Prestone' Brand. In the cooling system of my car it not only guards against frost, but rust, corrosion, foaming and clogging as well. That's what I call complete protection."

The Chief is right. "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze is the only anti-freeze with magnetic film that coats every surface of your cooling system. Make sure you insist on "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze—identified by the Green Tag that will be attached to your radiator.

Fishboat Rescues Hunter After Six Lonely Days

(From CP Dispatches)

PRINCE RUPERT — After six days lost on Banks Island in Hecate Strait, 65 miles south of here, Edwin Derulter, 22, of Richmond, B.C., began thinking he wouldn't be alive for Christmas.

He was interviewed Tuesday in hospital here several hours after being rescued by a fishboat crew.

"I didn't think I would see Christmas. I sure was happy when I saw the searchers this morning," he said.

Derulter said he ran out of matches during the first day of his separation from a hunting party. He realized he was lost after leaving his companions in an attempt to circle the island to shoot geese. He said he must have cut through the middle of the island instead of circling it.

"I had a gun but ran out of shells trying to locate my partners by shooting it into the air."

"I started to give up hope of being found. I didn't think anyone was searching for me."

He said he came across an old shack and stayed there for two days during a heavy rain-fall. Tuesday morning he managed to relight a fire that had shortly before been extinguished by the searchers.

Workman Crushed

COQUITLAM — Lloyd La Fleur, 40, of North Surrey, was crushed to death Tuesday when he was caught between a truck and a load of planks being loaded by a crane at a Greater Vancouver Waterworks project near here. An inquest will be held in New Westminster.

Punched in Face

VANCOUVER — A CPR police sergeant testified Tuesday a Seafarers' International Union official punched him twice in the face during a dispute on September 17.

Sgt. Harold J. Ives was giving evidence in the trial of Roderick Heinekey, 27, charged with assaulting and obstructing a police officer.

Sgt. Ives said Heinekey was standing on the sidewalk with a group of 20 or 30 seamen who had walked off the ferry Princess Patricia and was told he would have to leave CPR property.

Dollar Reserves Jump $41 Million

LONDON (Reuters) — The sterling area's gold and dollar reserve rose by $41,000,000 during November to $3,215,000,000, the treasury has announced.

It said $24,500,000 was paid to the European Payments Union—clearing house for trade between West European countries—in respect of October and $2,500,000 to the creditors of the union in bilateral settlements.

On the provisional figures for the month Britain had a deficit of $17,000,000 with the European Payments Union.

Age of a deer now is estimated by examining the teeth, not by the points on the antlers.

He said Heinekey told him: "No CPR gestapo is going either to move me or arrest me."

Sgt. Ives said he told Heinekey he was under arrest and went to take hold of his arm. He said Heinekey struck him twice, knocking him back against a taxi.

Driver Jailed

VANCOUVER — William Calvert, 47, was sentenced to six months in prison following his conviction in assize court Tuesday on a criminal negligence charge laid as a result of a fatal traffic accident April 26.

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane also ruled that Calvert be prohibited from driving for two years. He was charged as the driver of a car which crashed into another vehicle, causing the death of Miss Faye de Groot, 21.

Wildcat Strike

VANCOUVER — Work on the Deas Island Tunnel under the south arm of the Fraser River was halted temporarily Tuesday by a wildcat strike.

An official of the Operating Engineers' Union said the dispute arose with Windsor Construction Company after a cat driver was demoted and put to driving a smaller machine.

However, the driver was reinstated later and the 40 men involved returned to their jobs.

'Up to IWA'

PRINCE GEORGE — With Northern Interior Lumbermen's Association claiming the next move is up to the International Woodworkers of America following a strike vote, union officials said Tuesday the negotiating committee will meet "within the next few days" to study its position.

Strike action was rejected by a majority of the mills but accepted by a majority of workers. Eighteen mills voted against a walkout and 15 in favor. The individual vote was 582 workers in favor of strike and 392 against.

Robert Gallagher, secretary of the lumbermen's association, said it now is up to the union to decide on action.

Briggs 'Only 93 1/2% Wrong' On Pamphlet Cost-Bennett

The Social Credit pamphlet "Our Greatest Six Years" cost 6 1/2 cents a copy, not $1 a copy as stated by H. Lee Briggs, Premier Bennett said Tuesday.

He showed reporters a telegram from Evergreen Press, Vancouver, listing the figure.

"The Briggs statement was entirely erroneous. But he's better than before. He's only 93 1/2 per cent wrong. His earlier statements were 100 per cent wrong," the premier added.

During a discourse on campaign funds and how they are often provided by large companies, Mr. Briggs said Monday.

day the Social Credit funds were unending.

He said 400,000 copies of the Social Credit booklet had been printed at a price he understood to be $1 a copy.

"Now the people of B.C. can see what he is trying to do... smear everyone... he stands self-convicted before the bar of public opinion of all Canada," replied the premier.

The premier said the recent talk by Mr. Briggs, dismissed

B.C. Power Commission manager, and the charge that the government planned to invest trust funds in low interest B.C. Power Commission bonds, was "viciously false."

The more Mr. Briggs talks, the premier said, the more he injures his own cause.

"I wish he'd keep on talking."

(An independent printing appraiser told The Times today that a "conservative" estimate of printing and mailing the Social Credit booklet was 16 cents a copy. This figure, he added, does not include editorial or art-work costs, and would result in a

'Monarchy a Religion' Says U.K. Churchman

LONDON (CP)—The British monarchy is becoming a form of religion more appealing than the ritual and ceremony of churches, an Anglican clergyman suggested today.

MONTREAL (CP)—The top two floors of an old grey-stone building in Montreal's financial district collapsed with a shudder early Tuesday, severing water pipes and dumping thousands of gallons of water inside. No one was injured.

Rev. Clifford Rhodes, editor of the Independent Church of England newspaper, suggested that the monarchy is the new religion of the land in an article he wrote for the current issue of the magazine, the National and English Review.

"Only the monarchy can compete with sportsmen and entertainers in drawing vast crowds in public worship," he wrote.

"The monarchy would survive without the Church of England but the Church of England without the monarchy at its head would rapidly degenerate into a sect."

To protect the monarchy from the dangers of this situation, he urged that the heir to the throne be selected by Commonwealth statesmen or prime ministers from among the Royal Family and that the royal court spend longer periods in residence in Commonwealth countries.

QUEBEC MAN TO HANG FOR SHOOTING WOMAN

MONTREAL (CP)—A Queen's Bench Court jury today found Pierre Patenaude, 23, guilty of murder in connection with the fatal shooting last Christmas Eve of a middle-aged woman in an east-end restaurant.

Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure sentenced Patenaude to be hanged March 20.

The case went to the jury late Tuesday, but the jurors were unable to reach a verdict until today. They returned to the courtroom once for additional information and deliberated all night.

Patenaude was one of three men charged with murder following the shooting of Mrs. Jean-Paul Casavant, 50, in her small restaurant. The two others will stand trial separately later.

Gas Fire Bombs Dropped On Runaway Irish Rebels

CURRAGH, Ireland (Reuters)—Planes of the Irish Air Force skimmed low over a misty moor here today, dropping gasoline firebombs in a bid to drive a runaway band of underground extremists from their hiding places.

On the ground a force of 200 police and troops moved over the gorse and heather-clad scrubland.

Object of the hunt are 14 members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, the remainder of about 60 who staged a mass breakout Tuesday from a detention camp here.

TWO INJURED

Of the 60, two were injured when guards opened fire and threw tear gas bombs during the breakout. Sixteen men got clear but two were captured by patrols shortly afterward.

The IRA, a small but fanatical organization pledged to end partition in Ireland—by force if necessary—has been banned by the government of the Irish Republic as well as by authorities in the British north of Ireland.

A number of alleged members were rounded up and sent to the Curragh camp after Prime Minister Eamon de Valera declared a state of emergency in July, 1957.

A police spokesman said today he believes the hunted men will prefer to lie low rather than risk a dash out of the cordoned-off zone.

Cowichan Indian Band Needs Help on 'Butter Church'

By PETE LOUDON

Cowichan Indian Band of Duncan is accepting donations which will permit completion of their Centennial project—reconstruction of the Old Stone Church which was built in 1870 on Komiak Hill, overlooking Cowichan Bay.

The pictures above show the progress of the project to date: At left, the church door before the restoration was started; centre, demolition of dilapidated portion begins; right, new roof completed.

The band, one of six in the province to undertake centennial projects under the government 60-cents-per-capita grant offer, has expended its grant, and its matching funds.

The patient workers, under Chief Elwood Modeste received $576 toward their project. They've spent almost three times that much, drawing on their own pockets. Total cost is expected to be just under $2,800.

Their project is one of the most interesting so far

approved by the Centennial Committee. The Old Stone Church built in 1870, was a much-photographed relic until the Cowichans decided it could be restored. It was a stone shell, lacking a roof, or any doors or windows.

Catholic Father Peter Rendeau built it. He came to Victoria in 1858 and set out soon after with a sack of flour, a gun and a breviary to evangelize the Cowichans. He walked to Brentwood Bay and paddled a canoe to Cowichan Bay where he built a log structure which served as both house and church.

He sold butter to raise funds while building the Old Stone Church, which resulted in it first being called the Butter Church. The Indians and a few white settlers completed the structure. It was abandoned in 1880 when the population shifted.

Another theory is that it was given up when it was learned it had been built on Indian lands and the property could not be transferred to the Church.

One report has it that when the doors and windows disappeared, they turned up in the new St. Paul's Church at Fulford Harbor on Salt Spring Island which was dedicated in 1885.

"It would be nice to have them restored," mused the volunteer laborers on the new Old Stone Church.

Prevost Post No. 10, Native Sons of B.C., set up a committee to assist the Cowichans rebuild the old landmark. Members are George Evans, Jim Evans and Will Dobson. With their Indian friends, they have been working part time for a year.

Chief Modeste and his men are determined to complete the installation of floors, doors and windows. Donations are being sent to the Restoration Fund, c/o the Indian Agent at Duncan.

"Their forefathers built it by hand, now the Cowichans wish to restore it, to honor their forefathers," says the chief. "It will be used by the band—one of the grandest churches in one of the most picturesque places in B.C."

MONTE ROBERTS

I had an experience with inevitability yesterday, and I wish to say it is very humbling.

I was driving My Favorite Wife home from her office, and we had come to a stop-on Blanshard Street at Bay, waiting for the light to change.

As we sat there, minding our own business, Car A—as they say in the accident reports—started across the intersection as Car B was making a left turn.

Car A and Car B were in collision, and Car B promptly headed for Car C.

Namely, our car. Now, we could see we were going to be hit. We knew it was inevitable. I couldn't do a thing about it; go backward, go forward, go sideways.

In fact, I didn't have time to even say, "Oh, dear me." After it was all over—fortunately, the damage was all to the poor little automobile, not to us—I got to thinking about inevitability.

It so happens that our usual route home does NOT take us anywhere near Blanshard and Bay; it also happens that we were 15 minutes later than usual going home yesterday.

It also happens that we were supposed to be attending a cocktail party, which would have taken us in the opposite direction, but passed it up because we both have colds.

And, further, if I had not just barely caught a green light at Fisgard and Government on my way to pick up my wife, we would have been 60 seconds later reaching the intersection of Blanshard and Bay.

In other words, there were all these, and a thousand more, chances of us NOT getting pranged at Blanshard and Bay.

Yet it was inevitable that we were to be pranged, and pranged we were.

You can squirm and wriggle and twist and dodge, but the end result appears to be the same.

$54,000 Collected In 'Blitz'

Kiwanis service club today extended its one-hour "blitz" fund drive into a day-long campaign.

About $54,000 was collected by close to 2,000 canvassers Tuesday night in the drive for $100,000 to enlarge Kiwanis Village housing project for senior citizens.

But gale-force winds and rain prevented canvassing of about a dozen sections of the Greater Victoria area, publicity chairman Ronald Lochhead said today.

RE-ORGANIZED

"We hope to complete the canvass by the end of the week or within 10 days at most," he said.

Canvassers are being re-organized to cover the missed areas with afternoon and evening visits.

Main areas left to canvass include James Bay, parts of Esquimalt, Gorge, Mount View, Kings Road and Blenkinsop-Maplewood.

Mr. Lochhead said returns were still being received this morning and the $54,000 total may be increased when final tabulations of Tuesday's drive are made.

"This is just a progressive report and we fully expect to reach our objective when the canvassing is completed," he said.

GAGLARDI IN COURT DEC. 18

A speeding charge against Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi will be heard in RCMP court here Dec. 18, by Magistrate A. I. Thomas.

The infraction allegedly occurred in Richmond municipality, but the case was transferred. It was the third ticket issued the minister in a 20-month period.

Fishermen Safe After Night Out

Winds which whooped over the Greater Victoria area in gusts up to 66 miles per hour overnight eased off today after averting threat of another heavy rainstorm tonight.

The gale-force south westerlies interfered with air-transportation, knocked over trees and branches in various parts of the city, and touched off a search for two sports fishermen.

The fishermen, J. R. Christensen and Kund Harboe, both of 128 Superior Street, rented a 16-foot inboard from Brentwood shortly after 12 noon Tuesday.

PLAYED SAFE

Fears for their safety arose when the winds whipped up heavy seas. The men, however, decided to beach their craft on Senanus Island, near Henderson Point, and play it safe by sitting it out overnight.

They turned up safe and sound this morning. The gales forced a TCA aircraft from Vancouver to turn back from Patricia Bay airport after two unsuccessful landing attempts at about 8:30 p.m., and TCA cancelled out four other flights, two to Vancouver, one to Seattle, and one from Vancouver to Victoria.

Winds averaged 35 to 44 miles per hour from 3 p.m. Tuesday to 8 a.m. today. They were followed by a high pressure area which serves as protection from a forecast rain storm thought to be due tonight.

Ferry Chief Disappointed Over Sidney Wharf Delay

"Great disappointment" over the federal government's decision not to build a new ferry terminal at Sidney was expressed here Tuesday by I. D. Burse, general manager of Washington State Ferries.

The state-owned company operates the Sidney-Anacortes service during the summer months. "This program was predicated on the assurance suitable terminal facilities would be available at Sidney for the commencement of the 1959 tourist season," he said.

"As the federal government has now decided for the time being not to proceed with building the new terminal, WSF will use the present dock. But it is to be hoped it will be improved to allow larger capacity ferries to operate this coming season."

Mr. Burse pointed out that WSF has started building a new $625,000 ferry terminal at Anacortes, and is completing

'Johnny... Fired the Gun; Chuck Stopped Groaning'

(See Tuesday Trial Story, Page 35)

A sad-eyed young widow in black today recalled the shooting of her father and her husband and a series of savage assaults on herself—all on the same day.

Her voice choked with emotion, Mrs. Phyllis Olwen Mudge, 30, was giving evidence at the seventh day of the trial of Matthew John Till, 16, charged in Criminal Assize Court with the murder of her husband, 38-year-old Charles Mudge.

Her father, John Brand, 69, was slain the same day.

Speaking softly with a slight North of England accent, Mrs. Mudge told how she and her husband took in the accused Till (a ward of the government) last August.

"Did Johnny and your husband get along like two pals?" asked Joseph McKenna, QC, who is defending Till.

"Yes, they did," Mrs. Mudge replied.

"Did you ever ask him if he said his prayers?" asked Mr. McKenna.

"No," the widow replied.

"Did you find John Till obedient?"

"Yes,"

"Was he polite?"

"Yes."

REPRIMANDED

Earlier, Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie asked Mrs. Mudge if she or her husband ever reprimanded Till.

Mrs. Mudge: Sometimes my husband did. His grammar wasn't always too good. He used to refer to me as 'she.'

When Mrs. Mudge said she and her husband sometimes "mixed liquor" in the house, Mr. McKenzie asked her: "Was Till ever suspected by you of taking liquor?"

"No," she replied.

Mrs. Mudge then reconstructed the nightmare sequence of events which began when she visited the room where her father had been sleeping.

"I heard my husband groan."

'AN ISOLATED CASE' OF DISCRIMINATION

Mayor Percy Scurrell today joined with many Victorians to express regrets that some Westall Avenue residents opposed the renting of a house on the street to a young Sikh couple.

The mayor said he did not believe racial discrimination was prevalent in Victoria.

"This is an isolated case," he said. "It is regrettable."

Ajeet Bawa, a 28-year-old Canadian-born East Indian rented a house at 1448 Westall, but was later obliged to give up the key to the landlord and to take his cheque back because neighbors objected.

The landlord told him that neighbors feared that if an East Indian lived in the district their properties would devalue.

Amalgamation Forum

(The big issue to be decided at the Victoria and Saanich elections next week is that of amalgamation. In this column, as they are received, The Times will carry letters from readers pro and con.)

Unity or Chaos?

It is so obviously right in principle that Victoria, Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay should be amalgamated that it is difficult to understand all the controversy. Over-all planning for the future benefit of all and reduction in administrative and operational expenses can only be achieved by amalgamation.

We have been confused with details, selfish parochial attitudes and general misinformation. Voters should ignore all this, vote on principle, not expediency, and let their elected representatives work out a plan fair to all.

The decision the voters have to make concerning amalgamation of Victoria and Saanich is a simple one. The question might well be phrased: "Are you in favor of a united, efficient city, or are you in favor of disunited semi-chaos?"

RICHARD HAWKESWORTH, 1941 Ernest.

Pacing the Joneses

There are still some people in Saanich who would like to keep up with the Joneses by amalgamating with Victoria.

This seems foolish after the Saanich Council spending about $40,000 on a municipal building which would be almost a total loss if the proposed amalgamation becomes a reality.

I have studied the amalgamation question and as far as I can see the only people in Saanich who want it are those who have a good income and can afford to pay higher taxes for city services.

The people who want it in Victoria are those who would like to have the Saanich taxpayer share the city's debt burden which I understand is almost too much for the city officials to cope with. This seems to be true or they wouldn't be so anxious to amalgamate with the municipalities.

I think Saanich has enough liabilities already without taking on any more. Furthermore many people have moved from Victoria to Saanich to get away from high taxes.

TOM CLARK, Royal Oak.

Take Over City

I do not think the time is really ready to consider this question of amalgamation—not before Victoria puts its house in order.

A better scheme would be for the municipalities of Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay to study the possibility of taking over Victoria and running it as a port outlet.

East Victoria should go to Oak Bay, west Victoria to Esquimalt and the balance, from Garbally Rd., to Saanich.

All Vancouver is to the surrounding municipalities over there is a port outlet.

H. B. COX, 4072 Wilkinson Road.

ASK The TIMES

Q. I am asking the Times to please tell me why they have such large numbers on the Canadian football uniforms. Master S.D.

A. To paraphrase a classic quote, you can't tell the players without a number. And football fans like to know who is doing what out on the field.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps, or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Tickets for the two-night Kinsmen bingo Dec. 15 and 16 will remain on sale at T. Eaton Co. Ltd. until Dec. 15, committee chairman Jack Phillion said today.

Already 11,000 tickets have been sold, he said, and 5,000 remain. Buyers of tickets purchased no later than Dec. 6 will be eligible for prizes consisting of trips to any point in the world.

Reeve Fred Norris and Oak Bay councillors will report on their year's activities at an annual stewardship meeting of the municipality tonight at 8 in the new municipal hall.

Left turns off Quadra at Hillside will be prohibited between 4 and 5:30 p.m. starting Thursday. Traffic signs putting a recent bylaw into effect will be erected that day.

Calvin Wilson, 718 Queens, only recently out of jail for taking a car without the owner's consent, was sent back for 30 days on the same charge in city police court today.

Wilson was picked up by police at Fairfield and Foul Bay in a car owned by John M. Scouler, 2181 Haultain, 10 minutes after the auto was reported stolen from Holyrood House at 7:55 p.m. Monday.

A plea of guilty was entered Tuesday.

The 1958-59 Community Chest drive, officially ended last week, refuses to fade away.

Several hundred dollars filtered in today and Tuesday—including a cheque for $800 from a woman who had already given. Some $2,000 has been collected so far from the civil service canvass due to end Friday.

Total, which stood at $267,500 when the appeal ended Sunday, stands today at $271,000. But Chest secretary Adrian Gilmore doubted the target of $300,000 would be reached.

Donald Smith, RCN, was fined $15 in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to littering a street.

Police said Smith dumped two beer bottles from a car.

A flurry of burglaries, shoplifting and an attempted purse-snatching was reported to city police Tuesday.

Three watches with a total value of $140 were taken from a show window at the Clock Shop, 1037 Fort, sometime Monday afternoon, the owner said.

A Rockland Avenue resident said someone came up behind her as she walked home from a bus stop at 6 p.m. Tuesday, made an unsuccessful grab for her purse and made off with a bag of gifts.

Frank Pagnotta, 1028 Pine, was fined $15 in city police court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of beer.

Lt.-Cmdr. V. J. Murphy, newly-appointed skipper of HMCS Sussexville, paid his respects to Victoria during a so-called call in Mayor Percy Scurrell's office today.

HEY, KIDS! LAST CALL FOR THOSE SCRAPBOOKS

Hurry up, scrapbook contestants! Remember Saturday is the last day for entry in the Times Centennial scrapbook and coloring contest.

Talking Turkey!

DEAR ABBY...

DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas my husband asked me if I'd fix Christmas dinner for his family. His family includes a mother, his sister and her husband, two brothers and their wives and four teen-aged children. We asked them five weeks ahead of time. I started dinner at 7.30 a.m. Christmas Day and invited them to come at twelve o'clock noon. They showed up at 11.30 a.m. and his sister rushed me something terrible. My bread wasn't even out of the oven, but she insisted I serve dinner because everyone was starved. We sat down at twelve sharp, and by 12.45 everyone was through and out of the house. I was hurt, but didn't say anything. My husband said, "Let's go for a ride," so we drove around and stopped in to say hello to his brother's "in-laws" (the one who was at our house), and when we walked in at 2.00 p.m., there were all MY dinner guests eating another Christmas dinner! I told my husband right there that I would never fix them another meal. Was I wrong? —HURT

DEAR HURT: You were right! They deserve to eat crow. With humble pie for dessert.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what some people have against HILLBILLIES? Just because they marry young is no reason for others to make fun of them. Why is it that you rarely hear of HILLBILLIES getting divorced? —FOR HILLBILLIES

DEAR FOR: Maybe it is because the kinfolk are such straight shooters.

DEAR ABBY: I was married too young and had a baby. The marriage didn't work out, so I got a divorce. I was looked down on because I was a divorcee, so I moved out of the province, and told everyone my husband was killed in the war. I know it was wrong, but I got tired of fighting off the men who thought a divorcee had nothing to lose. I'm going with a man who wants to marry me, but I am afraid if I tell him the truth he won't marry me. What should I do? —A DIVORCEE

DEAR DIVORCEE: Skeletons in the closet can become bones of contention. Tell him the truth.

DEAR ABBY: I am a grown man of 33 and have a good job selling. I never write letters because I don't know how to spell, but no one would ever know it by talking to me because I have a good vocabulary (or maybe you'd call it a "gift of gab.") Here is my problem. I have honestly tried to look up words in the dictionary, but if you can't spell a word, how can you find it in the dictionary, and if you CAN spell it, why look it up? I hope this question won't be regarded as too stupid to answer. —POOR SPELLER

DEAR POOR: No question asked in sincerity is too "stupid" to answer. Look up the word the way you THINK it is spelled... and keep looking. If you still can't find it, look up a synonym (a word that means the same thing) and you could find it there. If you strike out, ask somebody.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHIRLEY: There is not much to SEE in a small town — but what you HEAR makes up for it. Stay where you are.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed.

Colwood—A sum of $126.19 was realized from a tea held by the Colwood Guides and Brownies. District commissioner, Mrs. W. S. Emmerton, opened the affair, and presented a warrant pin to Mrs. M. Bouvour, Brown Owl of Colwood Brownies. Mrs. L. Gardner and Mrs. J. Mills presided at the head table and tea was served by the Brownies. Guides arranged and took charge of stalls.

Bride Asks Grandfather To Sing Solo at Wedding

Belmont Avenue United Church was the scene of an attractive wedding recently, when Joyce A. Nye became the bride of Wilfred G. Morley.

Music for the service was a family affair. The bride's aunt, Miss Eva Ransom played traditional organ music. John Ransom, 91 years, sang "Because" for his granddaughter during the signing of the register.

Rev. T. L. W. Lancelotti officiated.

At Festival

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, will attend the Festival of Christmas Decorations, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Family and Children's Service, in the Georgian Lounge at the Empress Hotel, and present the prizes. Miss Ruth MacLean will accompany Mrs. Ross to the festival, which is open tonight and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9.30 p.m.

ciated at the ceremony in a church decorated with white, yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a light grey suit with French blue accessories and a pink rose corsage.

Miss Sylvia Nye attended her sister, Pink roses on corsage added a touch of color to her smart black and white tweed suit.

Donald H. Kohse stood as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Duchess Street home of the bride. Her mother received guests wearing a dark grey suit with gold accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Bride is eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nye and groom is son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Henry Morley of Stratford, Ont.

After a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Morley will make their home in Vancouver.

Women Told: Shed Fear, Speak Out

Moaning that one woman cannot get things done is "weak-sistering" as far as Rhoda Erickson is concerned. And she practices what she preaches.

She was recently elected president of Local 276, Hotel Workers' Division of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers.

Most women would be frightened of that title.

"And that's just the trouble," Rhoda Erickson points out, "most women are afraid to voice an opinion. They don't even keep abreast of current affairs."

Mrs. Erickson is only the third woman in Canada to be named a union president.

GOOD AS MEN

She says there is no reason why there shouldn't be others because "a woman can do the job as well as a man."

Then she lists main prerequisites as: Being able to command respect; to know how to speak well; to know your facts and be able to prove them.

That goes for more than her work as union president, too.

She carries those ideals right into her daily life, which includes the position as head of the popular Empress Hotel Coffee Shop.

Where did she first form such opinions?

In her school years in the United States — "where I learned women were expected to do everything men did and where they put special emphasis on public speaking".

The union she heads gives her scope to do many of the things she has dreamed of doing for a long time.

WITH BACKING

"A woman with the backing of a union like mine, can make people sit up and take notice," she says quietly.

Then she tells you proudly how Local 276 helps new Canadians, assists at the free food stalls and works with youth through its Little League teams.

When she is not at the Empress Hotel or planning union work, Mrs. Erickson can be found at the family home by the sea where she lives with her two teenage sons and her mother.

She does her own house work and — in the past two years — has found time to take up painting "just for amusement."

"I come from a hard-headed Scottish family and art just wasn't considered necessary."

Mrs. Erickson is one of three women in top union positions in Canada.

But I did get a little at school — enough to give me a taste for it. Now I'm taking lessons."

Her teacher is well-known artist Will Menelaws. Her favorite subjects, florals and seascapes.

"There's something about the sea . . ." she says. "We once lived on Saturna Island on the Gulf side, looking out to the ocean. I couldn't live away from it now. I love it in all its moods."

Rhoda Erickson's own mood changed as quickly as the sea as she added:

PLEASE COME TO THE BAZAAR!

Donna's big eyes are flashing an invitation to help the children at the Protestant Orphan's Home by attending the annual Holly Bazaar planned by the junior auxiliary. It will be held in the home, corner of Cook and Hillside, on Saturday, from 2 to 5 p.m. Stalls will include home cooking, needlework, white elephant, parcel post, aprons, wool, garden produce, dolls, candy, fish pond and also a raffle. Tea will be served. The affair will be opened by Mrs. T. de Foye, wife of the commanding officer of the PPCLI at Work Point Barracks.

Should Mothers Work? It Depends on Individual

Whether or not a mother should work outside her home has been a controversial subject.

I believe that it is far from ideal if the children are of preschool age and that it is just about as important, if not more so, for the mother to be at home when her teen-age children return from school.

Of course there are situations in which outside work is essential for financial reasons. There are also certain temperaments which make it impossible for a woman to "take" the wear and tear of constant child care without unfortunate repercussions in her personality and disposition. Both of these factors must be taken into consideration.

As Dr. R. T. Quatember, of the Psychological-Neurological University Clinic in Vienna, Austria, said to me when I discussed this question with him, "It is the quality of companionship between a mother and her children which counts, not the length of time she spends with them."

If a working mother can give herself over to real companionship with her offspring when she is with them, for fun, talk and listening, the quality of her relationship with them may be superior to that of the mother who is with her children all day long. However, unless the mother has just a part time job this is almost impossible to achieve.

I also discussed this problem with Professor Dr. Hans Hoff, famous professor of neurology and psychiatry in Vienna, and new president of The World Federation of Mental Health. He told me that depression and neurosis have increased. He mentioned several factors he feels have led to this increase, among them the following one: A deterioration in the mother-child relationship, due mainly to the fact that so many mothers now work outside their homes; about 30 per cent in Austria. He feels that it is impossible for a woman to work at an outside job all day long and then give her children the sort of companionship they so desperately need.

Both the husband and wife are tired when they return home. They are simply not up to being responsive and understanding. Also the evenings are the only time they have for social life together.

So when the mother is away from home all day long the child has a terrific lack in vital emotional nourishment.

Professor Hoff gave me an example out of his own experience, not about a working mother but about a child's need for a certain type of rapport with at least one parent.

It seems that the very young daughter of a couple ran away from home. She was not located for some time and the devoted parents were desperate. They loved their child very much and had given her the best possible care, they thought. She had every advantage in home, food, clothes, toys.

After the little one was found the parents came to Professor Hoff to ask him why in the world their child wanted to leave home. They were bewildered! Professor Hoff asked the mother, "Do you ever play with her?" The mother thought and then said, "Well, no, I guess I haven't." The working mother is a difficult question to evaluate and every family must do it for themselves.

Romantic Hairdos

As the bubble haircut departs, the smaller and neater head appears for winter. The careless curls are still there but not in such profusion.

Generally, there's more shaping for the hair, a closer alliance to the outline of the head and a romantic look in keeping with the new Directoire silhouette.

The basis for such a hairdo is, of course, a good permanent and expert cutting. The back will be scissored closer to the head than was true of the bubble cut and should be tapered slightly.

This is still a hairdo without a part but if you feel happiest with a part, your hair stylist can work out a version with part for you. Length of the hair is about two inches over the head for a light and feathery look.

When you have your hair cut and set, ask for directions for setting it yourself. For every woman should know how to take care of her hair between visits to the salon.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Dressing for afternoon reception:

During the Christmas holidays I expect to attend a formal afternoon reception for a friend who will be visiting in our city. My cousin tells me that I should wear a wrap or a fur coat. I am anxious to do the right thing, but I do not possess a wrap or a fur coat. All I have is a full-length cloth coat and my budget is very limited. Please advise me.

Louise Davis answers: How in the world can anyone be wrong by wearing a cloth coat to an afternoon reception, wedding, tea or to anything? It is unreasonable and preposterous to expect anyone to buy or even borrow a fur coat. You would be doing the wrong thing should you succumb to any suggestion or hint that you go into debt to purchase a fur coat. Therefore, you would be doing the right thing by wearing what you happen to have and you needn't for one second feel embarrassed or apologetic. It would be hypocrisy to put on such airs when your budget doesn't warrant it. If the wrap means an evening wrap (how could it be anything else?), I would say that it is definitely out of order for a daytime function.

With reference to husbands: An old friend always refers to her husband as "Mr. Jones." I make a point of referring to mine as "my husband" if I am speaking to casual acquaintances, but always as "George" when I am with friends. "Mr. Jones" always sounds to me as if the speaker didn't regard me as her social equal. Which of us is right?

Louise Davis answers: You are. Concerning your friend who always says "Mr. Jones," I'd say it is either an idiosyncrasy or a habit stemming from ignorance. Or perhaps it is a hint that she expects you to call her husband "Mr. Jones." She may be an old friend, but something tells me that you and other friends call her "Mrs. Jones."

TODAY'S RECIPE

FRUIT AND NUT MERINGUES

Two egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup fine granulated sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup chopped walnuts, 1 cup chopped dates or cherries.

Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Add sugar gradually, then fold in nuts and fruit. Drop by teaspoonsful on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake 30 minutes in very slow oven (200° F.), then turn off oven and leave cookies in oven until they become crisp. Makes 7 dozen.

LETTER FROM A 15-YEAR-OLD JAPANESE BOY, Hilokazu Watanabe, who wants a Canadian pen-pal is read by Mrs. Doris Looyen, 626 Johnson.

Chest Problem: 'Go It Alone' Or Seek Help

Victoria Community Chest directors Friday will consider whether to stand on their own feet or to ask the provincial government for assistance to bolster their disappointing drive total.

If they go to the government for aid it will be against the expressed wishes of 1958 campaign chairman Justin Harbord. He made it plain today that he doesn't favor seeking government help, a move planned by Vancouver Community Chest chairman Walter Koerner.

SERIOUS CRISIS

Mr. Koerner said he will place a request before the cabinet Monday for an unspecified contribution "to avert our serious crisis."

The Vancouver Red Feather appeal failed by $319,000 to reach its $2,906,000 objective despite a two-week extension.

Mr. Harbord said "Victoria is quite able to provide for its own without provincial assistance."

Hubert Wallace, president of Victoria Community Chest, said he hadn't heard of Mr. Koerner's plan.

"But the directors will consider the matter Friday."

Mr. Harbord said several unexpected, handsome donations in the past few days have brightened the Victoria picture.

He said he was confident the Victoria drive would approach $275,000 instead of the earlier-expected total of $270,000. The objective was $300,000.

Former Tory MP, J. H. Stitt Dies

OTTAWA (CP)—James H. Stitt, 66, a former Conservative Member of Parliament and a civil service commissioner for 10 years, died here Saturday from injuries received in an automobile accident Friday.

A native of Picton, Ont., Mr. Stitt was member of the Commons for Selkirk, Man., from 1930 to 1935. From 1935 to 1945 he was a member of the civil service commission in Ottawa.

A resident of Victoria for 47 years, he was born in Dawson, Yukon Territory. He is survived by the widow, Ray; son, Ted, and daughter, Diane; at 3125 Donald; three sisters, Mrs. M. Quarmby of Duncan; Mrs. Gladys Hughes of Shawnigan Lake, and Mrs. Grace Foulkes of 3108 Albina; a brother, Alex Bird, of 3110 Albina, and several nieces and nephews.

Studebaker Comes Up With Something New

The realization of Studebaker's long-anticipated "small" car, the Lark is automotive news of quite the first magnitude.

To reverse the usual process of detailing features and specifications first, let us begin this time by summarizing the Lark. It is a brilliant car, without any need for qualifying ifs or buts. Granted that every car is a compromise; there is none that is a more successful blending of desirable qualities than the Lark.

Shortest Yet
At an overall length of 175 inches, the Lark is the shortest American car made, beating its nearest competitor by over three inches, while affording much more passenger-room length-wise, plus a considerably larger trunk, plus 8½ inches more wheelbase.

At an over-all width of 69 inches, it saves four useless inches over its nearest competitor, all the while having a rear seat 14 inches wider, namely a full five feet across, which holds true also for the front seat. As a matter of fact, the Lark offers more usable passenger accommodation than several makes of cars which are between three and five feet longer, and one foot wider, as well as being costlier by hundreds or thousands of dollars.

Good Clearance
Fifteen-inch wheels give ample seven-inch road clearance; height of only 57 inches assure stylishness with low centre of gravity, yet head room is greater than average. In studying the bare data of its six-cylinder engine, one might be misled into believing that Studebaker had simply revived the venerable "Champion" engine in its reduced, original dimensions.

Not at all.

This "Champion" engine underwent drastic revision back in 1955, when it received a new crankshaft for a longer stroke, far greater bearing area, and larger valves. But just a moment, this is not yet the Lark engine. It had, correctly and advantageously, its piston stroke reduced to the pre-1955 figure of four inches, all the while retaining its post-1955 bearing area and valve size, plus a brand-new, silent cylinder head.

Easier on Fuel

What we have here is an engine of silky feel and imperceptible sound, which will perform with any other American six, but doing it on at least 10 more miles to the gallon than most of them. All those features, however, that have made the original Champion engine enviably durable, have been retained, or enhanced.

The Lark may be had, of course, with Studebaker's V-8 engine—but, so fitted, one had better look out, for the performance is really wild. Yet even this V-8 engine will run more economically than many a "six" I can think of.

There is no exaggeration in what I say. Let it be remembered that Studebakers were always long on engineering, if, on occasion, short of money, which certainly should cease to be a problem for them now with their new Lark.

The car's road-behaviour is on a level equally high as the rest of the car. Even the "six" will storm up the Malahat in overdrive-high; its steering requires hydraulic assistance only in the sense that your arms are activated by your blood-circulation—it is light at all times, neither too quick nor too slow, precise, its steering gear being of variable-ratio—long a Studebaker exclusive.

Its Lockheed-type brakes are still at least as good as the best to be found on American cars, and of exceptionally large area in relation to car weight. It holds the road with the best of them, its inherent "under-steer" ensuring that the Lark will remain free of vice, safely under full control when surprised by a sharp corner on a wet, dark, slippery night.

Its ride is basically "American" in comfort, but its unique variable-rate coil springs in front will easily take care of unexpected pot-holes at speed, while the station-wagon leaves in the rear springs to keep the car on an even keel when over-loaded.

—This, then, is the new Lark, briefly—it can only be appreciated fully behind the wheel on the road.

WRIGLEYS' SPEARMINT CHEWING GUM

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Steven Gregory, aged 10, of Seattle, Wash., for his question:

What Exactly Is Yeast?

Yeast is an invisible servant that works for us behind the scenes. Its most important job is to make our daily bread light, spongy and digestible. It turns grapes into wine and wine into vinegar. Men have known how to put yeast to work for thousands of years. But not until the Age of Science did we know how it worked or what it looked like.

We call a single yeast cell and we need a microscope to see it. Twelve average yeast cells equal the thickness of a hair from your head. The thickness of a new dime is equal to about 200 yeast cells. They look like oval blobs under the microscope, usually strung together like sausages.

Yeast belongs to the plant kingdom. It is the one-celled member of the fungus family. This makes it a relative of the mushroom. The big, round puff ball is the giant of this family, the little yeast cell is the midjet. The fungi are unlike other plants because they have no green chlorophyll. It is chlorophyll that enables a plant to make food from air, water and sunlight. Hence fungus plants need a richer diet than green plants.

Yeast cells devour sugar, nitrogens, ammonias and other chemicals. In the process the sugar is broken down into alcohol and carbon dioxide. But yeast cells are delicate and choosy. They need moisture before they can carry on this chemical process. They must be warm, but not too warm.

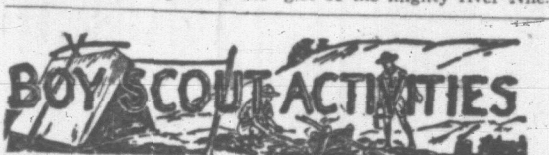

When conditions are just right a colony of yeast cells doubles its weight in two hours. As a cell becomes well fed it sprouts into a little bud. The bud grows into a daughter cell. Usually it remains attached to the mother cell. When food is plentiful it takes about an hour for a cell to bud and produce a full grown daughter. During the next hour both mother and daughter produce a new cell apiece and the original little sausage becomes a chain of four linked sausages.

Cells Lighten Bread Dough

Bread dough is a mixture of flour, water, sugar and, maybe, a few flavoring ingredients. It is flat and heavy. Yeast, mixed in warm water, is added to the dough. The little cells start at once to feast. The sugar is broken down into alcohol and carbon dioxide gas. The gas becomes trapped in the dough. It forms little bubbles and the dough swells up. It becomes light and puffy.

At the right time the spongy dough is put into a hot oven. The heat destroys the yeast cells and dries out the moist dough. The alcohol in the dough evaporates and the gas bubbles are baked into the bread.

Bread yeast is a very special variety, grown in huge tanks. But there are countless other varieties in the world. Yeast cells are everywhere, in the air, in the soil and on the skin of every ripe, juicy fruit. On the skin of a ripe grape there are maybe 300,000 yeast cells. If the grape has been bitten by a bird or a wasp there may be millions of yeast cells. They have fed and multiplied on the sugar freed from the pulp of the fruit.

Mountain Fast Ends in Death

THE DALLES, Ore. (AP)—The frozen body of a woman, whose husband said they went up on a mountain to fast, was found Tuesday in the Mount Hood National Forest.

The body of Charlotte Elora Durbin, 45, was found on a bed in a crude shelter by state policemen Robert Freeman and Tony Kriyak.

With the woman, they said, was her husband, Dudley H. Durbin, about 46, and a daughter, Polly Jean Durbin, about 17.

The policemen quoted Durbin as saying the family had gone to the mountain area from their Yakima, Wash., home, and began the fast about Oct. 1.

They lived only on water from a nearby mountain stream, Durbin was quoted as saying.

Sheriff Ernie Mosier said the woman might have been dead two weeks.

Durbin was held in the county jail without formal charge. His daughter was taken to a hospital here.

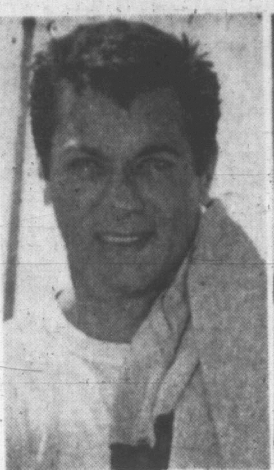

Durbin chatted freely in his jail cell. When a reporter asked why he went up on the mountain, Durbin replied:

"The Lord told me to go."

State police went to check the area Tuesday after a forest ranger said he had come upon a gaunt, bearded man living in a forest shelter made of boughs, bark and canvas.

The state police said the shelter had been built at a fairly high level in the forest. They did not know the exact elevation. There was no snow on the ground, but police said it was bitterly cold in the timbered area.

"The Lord took everything away. Now I have nothing left but my life. I'm ready to give that away any time," Durbin said.

AA (Oscar Class)
A (Don't Miss)

BB (Worthwhile)
B (For Rainy Days)
C (To put in time)

(A) "A TIME TO LOVE AND A TIME TO DIE" (Odeon)—A group of comparatively unknown actors have combined to make the adaptation of Erich Maria Remarque's novel, "A Time to Love and a Time to Die," a thoroughly engrossing motion picture.

Like Remarque's first novel about war, the remarkable "All Quiet on the Western Front," this latest is about the German homefront and the people who are left to make what they can out of life that is precariously close to death.

In the spring of 1944, when the tide has started to turn against the Germans on the Russian front and they are retreating through snow and shell fire, young private John Gavin finally gets his long overdue furlough. Back home again he discovers his house to be but a pile of rubble, his father and mother missing.

In his search for them he comes upon Lilo Pulver, the daughter of his family doctor. Lilo tells him that her father is in a concentration camp. Eventually the two fall in love and, in spite of the insecurity of the future, are married just before Gavin has to return to the front.

ALTHOUGH "A Time to Love and a Time to Die" is an indictment against the forces of Hitler and the bestiality of certain members of the feared Gestapo, it is more than that. It is—as was "All Quiet on the Western Front"—a treatise on life amongst death, that man still seeks romance and love, gaiety and quiet—that life still goes on with remarkable sameness although marked by a different tempo.

Gavin turns in a splendid job, as does Miss Pulver. Tayer David, as Gavin's old school mate who has become SS district leader, is also good. Remarque himself is seen briefly as David's former school teacher. Comedy bits are supplied by Don DeFore and Keenan Wynn.

'You Don't Take Chances With Fugitive in Home

PARSONS, Kan. (AP)—"You just don't take chances with six kids depending on you," said Wilbur March.

Thus the 41-year-old laborer explained why he kept silent while an escaped convict shared his home as an unwelcome guest for 42 days.

Acting on a tip from Mrs. March, police Tuesday arrested Richard Lee Aligaier, 28, a St. Louis bandit who escaped Oct. 18 from the Missouri penitentiary. Aligaier was picked up while slipping beer in a tavern.

Police also charged March with harboring a criminal after he signed a statement saying Aligaier made no direct threats to him. But the charge was dropped.

March said Tuesday night Aligaier did threaten him.

"He told me that if he got picked up he would know what had happened and he had lots of friends," said March.

Why did he sign the statement?

"There was just too many officers around asking questions and I didn't know what else to do."

March and his wife sat in their drab little home beside the railway tracks Tuesday night and told a reporter:

Aligaier, who said he walked the 200 miles between the prison and Parsons, showed up at the March home Oct. 22, four days after he escaped.

"We took him in because he was sick and hungry," said Mrs. March, 33. "We have always helped people like that."

A week later, Aligaier told them he was a fugitive.

"From then on he always had one of us with him," she said. "When my husband went to work Aligaier was home with me and the children. If he went out he always had one of us with him."

Mrs. March said Aligaier once threatened to kill her husband. But he wasn't trying to frighten them into silence," she said.

"He just didn't like Wilbur," Aligaier, however, was a likeable fellow, and there wasn't any trouble. She said Aligaier often helped her with the children.

Aligaier decided to leave Monday night. He borrowed March's car and $15. A few miles out of town, the car plunged into a ditch and he

NEWS BRIEFS

Ronald Eric Norlin, 1190 Rock, was fined $250 in city police court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving.

Police said Norlin's car was going east on Esquimalt, went out of control near Tyee, struck a barricade, veered across the road, over a bank and came to rest against steps and front of CNR offices at 1245 a.m. Tuesday.

Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded Norlin to Monday for consideration of driver's licence suspension.

Members of the Victoria branch of the English-Speaking Union of the Commonwealth will hear a tape recording of Arnold Toynbee's commentary on "Search for Peace" when they meet 8 p.m. Friday at the Douglas Cafeteria, Government and Elliot Streets.

A report and review of the recent Union world branches conference at Ottawa also will be heard.

Ladies' Day will be celebrated at a luncheon meeting of the Canadian National Railway Veterans' Association Friday at 2 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Open to the public, the meeting will feature a number of films and prizes will be awarded.

Beck and His Doctor Make Financial Team

TACOMA (AP)—Dave Beck and his doctor, collaborators in many a successful business diagnosis, made $26,696 apiece on a Seattle real estate deal, according to testimony at Beck's income tax trial. Dr. Alexander Grinstein, Beck's personal physician and friend of 40 years, told the federal court jury he and the ex-labor boss were partners in the purchase of five Seattle lots in 1947-48.

RIFT between Debbie Reynolds and husband Eddie Fisher over Eddie's friendship with glamorous Liz Taylor may soon be in divorce court, Debbie's lawyer said Tuesday she is nearing a financial settlement.

Modern Jazz Trio At Sirocco Thursday Night

Victoria appearance of the Elmer Gill modern jazz trio will set the theme for Victoria Jazz Society's first anniversary concert Thursday at Club Sirocco.

The Seattle group, led by pianist - vibra - harpist - vocalist Gill, comes to the capital city for the first time since it began drawing attention in the Puget Sound area.

With Elmer will be bassist Al LaFkins and drummer Dave Coleman, who provide the backing and help the trio earn plaudits for both union and individuality.

On the same program will be Buddy Glover and sidemen Bob Miller and Terry Hawkeye.

Mohawk Denies Gaspé Murders

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Francis Gilbert Thompson, Mohawk Indian who has been claiming to be the 1953 killer of three American hunters in the Canadian wilderness, denied his own story before television cameras Tuesday.

"I don't know anything about it," the 35-year-old Thompson mumbled.

His repudiation came as TV cameramen filmed an interview with him in jail.

Canadian authorities have discounted Thompson's confession almost from the first. A prospector, Wilbert Coffin, was hanged two years ago for the slaying of Richard Lindsey, 17. Richard's father, Eugene, and Frederick Claar, also were slain.

Thompson is held on charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny. He admitted breaking into a yacht at anchor at a Miami dock.

Meanwhile, his mother, Mrs. Catherine Lazore, 59, of Syracuse, N.Y., told police her son was in a Canadian mental institution at the time of the murders.

Mrs. Lazore said he was committed at Brockville, Ont., on the recommendation of a Cornwall, Ont., physician. He escaped from the institution in either January or February of 1955, she said, and was arrested a short time later by immigration officials in Kentucky.

He then was confined more than three years at the New York State Prison at Attica, Mrs. Lazore said, where he was released last June. He had lived with her in Syracuse until the first week in November, she told police.

Mrs. Mudge Starts Giving Evidence in Murder Trial

Murder suspect Matthew John Till kept his eyes averted and looked straight ahead as a young woman dressed in black entered Assize Court late Tuesday on the sixth day of his trial.

He stared steadily in front of him as she sat down and faced the 12-man jury. Rustlings and whispered chatter in the packed public gallery abruptly ceased as she began to give evidence.

Mrs. Phyllis Mudge, 30-year-old, wife of former Yarrows paymaster Charles Mudge, 38, found slain at their Metchosin Road home, September 13, looked not once at the 16-year-old boy sitting statue-like in the dock 20 feet to her left.

Most of the time she looked at Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie, who stood away from his usual position near the dock and questioned her from a point near the far end of the jury box.

Spoke Softly

Till — foster son of the Mudges — is accused of the murder of Mr. Mudge. Mrs. Mudge's 69-year-old father, John Brand, was also shot to death during an afternoon that saw Mrs. Mudge savagely attacked.

Neat in black full-length coat, black pillbox hat, black handbag and black suede shoes, Mrs. Mudge spoke softly and sighed frequently as she testified. Again and again Mr. Justice J. G. Ruttan asked her to speak louder "because it is important the jury hears everything you say."

Mrs. Mudge gently fingered the bracelets on her right arm as she spoke, glancing occasionally at the blood-stained clothing and exhibits on the clerk's desk in front of her.

She said she was born in England, came to Canada in December, 1947, with her father, married Mr. Mudge Feb. 19, 1954, and "after living at various places in Victoria," paid $5,000 down on the $17,000 house at 3460 Metchosin.

Mr. Brand, she said, paid $40 a month board. Till, whom the Mudges accepted as foster son when his previous foster parents (the Douglasses) moved out of the dwelling, stayed on at the house after a few weeks at a nearby address.

$45 a Month

"The welfare people (Family and Children's Welfare) paid us $45 a month for Johnny," Mrs. Mudge said.

She added the boy helped the Mudges move in "and gave a hand when Chuck built a fence and dug the well—he was a good worker, always willing to do anything."

In answer to the prosecutor's questions, Mrs. Mudge said the only times she was alone with the boy was when she drove him to school. He was a Grade 10 student, first at Mt. View High School, later at Belmont High School, where he was planning to take a university course.

Mrs. Mudge said they prepared a room for the boy in the basement and "put a television set in there for him. The welfare people provided his clothing."

She said she had been employed as a comptometer operator at $100 a month, with which she paid the groceries, while her husband, who she said earned $500 a month at Yarrows, "paid the other bills."

FULL GALLERY FOR TRIAL

Spectators Bring Their Own Lunch

Seats in the public gallery above Assize Court were at a premium Tuesday as the sixth day of the Till murder trial got underway.

Several spectators—many of whom were middle-aged women—arrived an hour before court began at 10 a.m., and more than a score sat on through the 1½-hour luncheon break.

They produced sandwiches and refused to budge. One woman said she wasn't "going to miss Mrs. Mudge's evidence," while a young man declared watching murder trials was his favorite hobby.

NO RESERVATION

19 City Engineers To Get Certificates

Nineteen Victorians will be among 85 newly-registered engineers who will receive membership certificates at the annual convention of the Association of Professional Engineers of British Columbia at the Empress Hotel, Friday.

The certificates will be presented at a luncheon meeting. Dr. Brock Chisholm, former director of the World Health Organization, will address a convention meeting Saturday at noon.

There will be a dance in the ballroom the same evening.

A tea for engineers wives will be held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Sanderson, 3505 Upper Terrace Road, Friday, at 3 p.m.

POTTER HOST

Russell Potter, chairman of the Victoria branch of the association, will act as host to the convention.

T. H. Crosby and H. J. MacLeod, members of the B.C. Power Commission, will receive life memberships in the association.

Certificates will be presented to:

W. H. Adrian, 3929 Rowley Road; Col. C. R. Boehm, 2306 Arbutus Road; P. H. W. Bray, 1050 Beverley Place; C. B. Brown, 440 Quebec Street; D. Ferguson, 1147 Hilda; Lt. Cmdr. R. J. WALLACE COURTNEY ready for Viscounts.

End of '59 For Airport Improvements

A new administration centre and longer, stronger runways will be completed at Patricia Bay Airport by the end of 1959.

TCA Victoria branch manager Wallace Courtney told Kiwanis Club members Tuesday the improvement will be completed in ample time to take the new Vickers Viscount planes on the Victoria-Vancouver run.

He was asked to estimate a completion date by club members following a talk by TCA public relations officer Ross Smythe at a luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel.

"By the end of 1961, or earlier," Mr. Smythe said, "you will be receiving Viscounts on the Victoria-Vancouver run, although we haven't estimated a definite date."

He described his company's present program of conversion from piston-engined to turbo-prop and pure jet aircraft, estimated to be completed by 1961.

"We hope to be the first inter-continental carrier," he said, "to be completely converted to turbo-prop aircraft."

He said the change-over would cost about $200,000,000 in new planes and improved ground facilities.

INDIAN LEADER URGES MORE SCHOOLING

'It's Up to You Parents'

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—The need for Indian parents to make sure their sons and daughters get all the education they can was stressed here Tuesday at the opening of the three-day convention of the British Columbia Native Brotherhood.

Robert Clifton of Courtenay, president of the organization, told the 110 delegates and guests from all over B.C. that the native Indian has come a long way in the last 100 years.

He said that whereas treatment of the Indian once "paralleled Little Rock, Arkansas," today Indians take part in community life. However they were still seeking equality.

The road to extended rights was through education.

"It is up to you fathers and mothers to see that your children get the best education they can. I cry sometimes because I'm not educated."

Also urging the delegates to fight for their rights was Homer Stevens of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer of the United Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union who warned the natives they would get nothing without a struggle.

Prince Rupert Mayor P. J. Lester told the delegates, "If you are wise and patient you will accomplish much. If you are rash and hasty your plans and hopes may be put aside for many years."

"...a race that nobody wins"

"With business activity in this country, and also in the United States, now clearly on the rise, the need for aggressive budgetary and monetary stimuli has diminished. And the task of refunding large maturing issues of government securities, to which monetary policy has been noticeably adapted in the past year, has been lightened by the success of the Canada Conversion Loan. I may say that our facilities were used to the greatest possible extent to assist in this operation."

"I recognize, of course, that even with the most resolute determination we are not wholly the masters of our own price level in Canada. But here, too, the auguries are favourable, for the existence of sufficient supplies of virtually all internationally traded commodities makes it unlikely that a general rise of world prices will conspire against the attempt to hold the line at home."

"What is more, these very conditions of world trade underscore the need to ensure that Canadian products represent good value, which is the only sound basis for maintaining and improving Canada's position in world markets."

"Let us resolve and work together, then, to stop this treadmill of inflation, for it is a race in which one must run to keep even and a race that nobody wins."

GORDON R. BALL, President.

Lively Four-Party Rally Opens Trail Campaign

TIGER-CAT FINED $50
WINNIPEG (CP)—Football commissioner G. Sydney Halter today announced Hamilton Tiger-Cat halfback Ralph Goldston has been fined $50 "for conduct resulting in a match penalty in the Grey Cup game at Vancouver Saturday."

Goldston was ejected from the classic in the second quarter when judge of play Taylor Paterson ruled he slugged Winnipeg Blue Bomber ball carrier Leo Lewis after making the tackle. The Bombers won 35-28.

Hit-and-Run Suspected In Tot's Death
WEST VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP)—The body of a 20-month-old girl was found Tuesday night, crumpled beside the road near her home.

Police said they are investigating the death of Jean Marie Anderson. They said she died of head injuries and may have been hit by a car which failed to stop.

Mrs. Eugene Anderson told police she put Jean Marie to bed early in the evening for being naughty, then got her up about 9.30 p.m. so she would be awake when her mother came home.

The mother, was working around the house and a short time later found that the little girl had disappeared. She found her dead on the street outside.

Chrysler Strike
DETROIT (AP)—A strike of 7,000 United Auto Workers in a key Chrysler Corporation plant threatened today to make idle 50,000 Chrysler workers in the Detroit area within a week.

TRAIL—Campaigning in the Rossland-Trail by-election got off to a lively start Tuesday night.

More than 350 jammed a hall for a four-party political forum which the chairman, Al King, termed "an evening of festivities."

It was the forerunner of an intense barrage of speech-making by the top men of all parties which will go right down to voting day, Dec. 15.

The four candidates who spoke were: Alex Brokenshire, Conservative; F. E. de Vito, CCF; Dr. M. E. Krause, Liberal; and D. L. Brothers, Social Credit.

With Conservative leader Deane Finlayson, Liberal chief Arthur Laing and CCF member of parliament H. W. Herdridge in the audience, Mr. Brothers spoke first.

He emphasized highway construction accomplished by the Social Credit government and mentioned in particular improvement work carried out at Black Bear, Waneta, Glenmerry, Renata, Castlegar, Oasis and Casino—all points in Rossland-Trail riding.

"I think it is wonderful the work that has been done by the Social Credit government, and I don't know what more could be expected from any department of highways," Mr. Brothers said.

Columbia River development was one of the main points brought out by Mr. De Vito. Comparing it in potential scope to Grand Coulee and the Tennessee Valley Authority, he asserted that this development under public control presented a magnificent opportunity of ensuring prosperity in this area.

The CCF nominee said fruition of such a scheme would alleviate the problem of people moving into the smaller communities of the area.

Tory candidate Mr. Brokenshire denied his party is not interested in the problems and welfare of the working man.

"We are all working men and we should never forget it. On top of that, we never were on the working man's back," Mr. Brokenshire referred to the Social Credit government's record during the last six months.

'MILK FOR HUNGRY CHILDREN'

Small Faces Should Reflect Love

Look at the children in the picture, then look in your own home. See the hunger on small faces which should reflect only love and laughter—then see if you can refuse such children food.

Living is caring. Particularly where children are concerned. That is why The Victoria Daily Times is co-operating with the Unitarian Services Committee and Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova to help feed starving children—in India, in Hong Kong and in Korea. You can help, too.

The committee needs $200,000 from Canadians by December 14th to buy milk made available by the Canadian government.

More than $350 has already been given to the Times' "Milk for Hungry Children" appeal.

ONE WORLD
"Why?" she asked. "Well, I so completely believe in one world—a world which does not yet exist. That is why I want to help these poor children."

Reason enough—and reason enough for us to take a part, too. Donations should be addressed to "Milk for Hungry Children" and sent either to the Times' office at 2631 Douglas or the downtown office on Broad Street. All donations are deductible for income tax purposes.

WHAT'S UP IN SPACE? U.S. to Put Monkeys In Satellite Orbit

100-Foot Flames Whipped by Wind
MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A wind-lashed fire has cut an eight-mile-wide swath from the mountains to the sea but a massed battery of pumps, virtually one to a house, today checked a threat to this famed film colony.

Elsewhere, flame walls 100 feet high roared on unchecked. The huge blaze, driven by 50 mile-an-hour winds, has destroyed an estimated 36 homes.

Hundreds of residents have fled the scene.

The blaze, perhaps set by an arsonist, burst out Tuesday on the brush and oak-studded inland slopes of the Santa Monica Mountains. The winds quickly whipped it over the crest of the hills and down canyons to the sea.

The Malibu Beach film colony is on the ocean side of the highway. The flames jumped from the land side across the highway but the intensive efforts of firemen and their pumps and residents with garden hoses checked the threat.

Stopped by the Pacific Ocean, the flames turned their fury toward thickly settled Malibu Canyon, at the mouth of which lies the beach colony that has long been a favorite residential area for movie people.

Firemen battled fiercely through the night in an effort to keep the blaze out of Malibu Canyon, but lost the fight just before dawn when flames 100 feet high roared over the top of the last ridge and bore down on the homes a half-mile below.

Directly in the path of the flames were a dozen homes, a Catholic church and school and an elementary school being used as fire-fighting headquarters and an evacuation centre.

The fire has already destroyed several expensive homes, among them the $50,000 hilltop house of actor Lew Ayres.

RANCHES ABANDONED
A barn on actor Ronald Reagan's ranch was burned down and ranches owned by Bob Hope and Canadian-born Glenn Ford had to be abandoned.

In the Malibu Beach colony residents spent the night spraying water on their homes to keep them from being ignited by sparks from the roaring fire.

Among them was actor Jackie Coogan. But as the flames topped the ridge at the head of the canyon, many of them packed their belongings and started to leave.

ARTILLERY DUEL MARKS ISRAELI, SYRIA CLASH

JERUSALEM (AP)—An hour-long artillery duel between Israeli and Syrian units broke out on the borders of the two countries this afternoon. It ended after a United Nations cease-fire request.

First reports indicated that one man—an Israeli shepherd—was killed by shellfire, a UN spokesman said.

Builder Blamed In Vancouver Bridge Disaster

The Lett Royal Commission Tuesday placed responsibility for the June 17 collapse of the partially-built Second Narrows Bridge on the contractors, Dominion Bridge Company.

The B.C. government was exonerated in the tragedy which claimed 18 lives.

Collapse was held due to failure of a temporary support section known as N4.

Dominion Bridge Company was named guilty of negligence in the design and construction of the bridge "falsework" and for failing to submit plans for "falsework" to the engineers.

Consulting engineers Swan, Wooster and Partners were charged with a lack of care in not requiring the contractor to submit the plans of the "falsework."

Premier Bennett, who released the royal commission report of Chief Justice Sherwood Lett, called for resignations of Sun publisher Donald Cromie and Opposition Leader Robert Strachan for suggesting last June that Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi might be also partly responsible.

He pointed out the bridge is being built by the B.C. Toll Highways and Bridges Authority and not by the highways department, and the authority was held blameless, in any event.

The premier said the Lett report was presented to the cabinet late Monday. Quoting from the report, the premier said: "The toll authority received the advice and recommendation of the bridge division of the highways department as to the design of the bridge as prepared by the engineers (Swan, Wooster and Partners)."

"This advice, as to design, was sound and was followed, and was not disregarded in any way by the (toll) authority."

"There was no negligence or faulty judgment on the part of the (toll) authority, which caused or contributed to the collapse."

CREW RESCUED AFTER SHIP ABANDONED

LONDON (UPI)—Two freighters collided in the fog-shrouded English Channel today, tearing the stern off one and forcing its crewmen to abandon the ship.

All the crewmen were rescued by tugboats and lifeboats.

Acid-Packing Woman Robs N.Y. Bank

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman who appeared to be in her 60s robbed a bank of about $3,000 today after threatening to splash acid on a man teller.

She fled from the bank and disappeared among throngs of Christmas shoppers.

The woman did not utter a word, but issued her threat in a note pushed across the counter to the teller.

"I have acid in a glass and if you don't give me what I want I'll splash it on you," it read.

PRAYER FOR TODAY
Father, help me to realize the significance of the spoken word, that divine medium by which I may communicate with others. May my speech be ever under self-control. In all my conversations may I be sincere, yet ever thoughtful of human sensibilities. By cheerfulness of spirit, by encouragement and praise, and in an attitude of living faith may I be an ambassador of Christ. Amen.

Mice Go Aloft In New Series

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defence Department announced today it will launch a series of satellites with mice and monkeys aboard in an effort to learn how to put a man in orbit and get him back.

The program, called "Project Discoverer," will be carried out at Vandenberg Air Force base near Lompoc, Calif.

The first shot of the series will be fired in about 30 days.

Project Discoverer will use proved military rockets capable of putting as much as five tons of payload into an orbit around the earth.

The first moon of the new launching series will be fired into orbit late this month or early next. It will weigh about 1,300 pounds.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's space agency, said further launchings may be expected at the rate of about one a month in 1959.

In disclosing the plan to use mice and monkeys as satellite "crews" during Project Discoverer, Johnson said space experts believe they can bring artificial moons back to earth and land them within 200 miles of a desired point.

Johnson said no attempt will be made to put a man in orbit in 1959. And the first animals, he said, probably will not go aloft until the fifth or sixth launching in the series.

Project Discoverer plans now cover only next year, but Johnson said he expects it to continue indefinitely.

'MYSTERY BEEPS'

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (CP)—Detection of a mysterious signal from space was reported Tuesday night, following a report that Russia has within the last two weeks fired a rocket past the moon and on out toward Mars.

However, the U.S. defence department said it knows nothing of the signals, and denied any knowledge of the reported rocket launching.

The signals were reported by a missile tracking station operated here by the Lockheed-missiles system division. Station chief C. Roger Moe said the signals definitely came from a man-made instrument and were not caused by any natural phenomena.

A spokesman said the signals could not be explained at this time.

"They were similar to but not the same as the tele-meter signals from Sputnik I in its earlier stages."

"They were picked up on the 20,003 megacycle band and continued for 10 or 15 minutes, he said. The information was handed over to the U.S. Air Force."

The report of the rocket launching came from Erik Bergaust, editor of Missiles and Rockets Magazine. He told the Advertising Club in Pittsburgh that U.S. scientists tracked the missile by radio for three days.

Scientists associated with the U.S. space programs joined the defence department in denying any knowledge of the rocket.

'MOONBIRD' SET

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The Army appeared almost ready today to send its first moon rocket hurtling into space in a vital radiation-measuring mission.

The 140-foot-tall service tower of the Army's moon bird moved back from the rocket Tuesday, exposing a vehicle that bore a striking resemblance to the Jupiter-C rockets that put three satellites into orbit in six tries.

Although there has been no official announcement, the Army is expected to fire the tall Juno II rocket some time this weekend.

The Army's moon vehicle appeared fully assembled when it was revealed Tuesday. It appeared that only final checks were necessary prior to firing.

In contrast to the Air Force moon rockets, which were designed to orbit the lunar sphere and take crude TV pictures of its never-seen dark side, the Army's payload package is intended to take radiation measurements in space.

IN DEATH THROES

The Sputnik III carrier rocket, an eerie little fireball that has blinked its way across Victoria skies since May 15, was dying today.

The railway-car sized rocket soared into space May 15, carrying the third Russian artificial satellite.

It put the Sputnik into orbit, then went into orbit itself and eclipsed its master with its flashing brilliance.

Today it was on its last circuits and was scheduled to fall to a fiery end at any time, victim of gravity and the insignificant but relentless drag of the almost non-existent atmosphere.

People and Things

LONDON—"No hard drinking during the ceremony" was the order Tuesday when the Queen Mother opened a new bungalow colony for retired barkeepers.

A ribbon was cut and the Queen Mother strolled round the pleasant rows of little homes. Not a bottle in sight.

Under a marquee she sipped tea with a jolly vintage of old pint pullers, each with more than 20 years' service at the bar, and their wives. Only occasionally did some of the men's eyes stray to a silk curtain directly behind the Queen Mother's chair.

Fifteen minutes later the royal visitor left the estate of Denham for her London home.

The silk curtain was pulled aside. Crate upon crate of hard liquor was revealed, and 100 pairs of trained hands set to with corkscrew and bottle opener.

Bridge Company Ltd. responsible.

The premier further quoted the chief justice, with regard to the consulting engineers, Swan, Wooster and Partners:

"There was an obligation on the engineers to satisfy themselves that the falsework proposed to be used, complied with the requirements of the specifications."

THEY KNEW

He said the toll authority specifications required this step and the engineers knew this.

Still quoting Mr. Justice Lett, "When the contractor failed to submit these plans, it was the duty of the (consulting) engineers to their client, to require from the contractor, their production. This duty the engineers failed to perform."

The chief justice also found fault with the contractor "... in leaving the design of the upper grillage of false bent N4 to a comparatively inexperienced engineer, and failing to provide for adequate or effective checking of the design and the calculations made in connection with the design."

DEMAND PLANS

Main recommendation in the report was that the consulting engineers be required to demand of the contractors all of their proposed plans ... the contractor should not use any temporary works in erection until the engineers have signified that they have completed their examination and have no objection to the contractor's proposals.

Premier Bennett said the latter recommendation "will be immediately implemented." It is a restatement of the contract specifications originally laid down.

The premier also said because of the interest in the inquiry among "professional circles and bridge builders throughout the world, at least volume 1 of the report would be printed. Volume 2 comprises technical exhibits primarily of interest to the engineering profession."

8 INCHES THICK

The report of the chief justice, including a full array of evidence presented to the inquiry, was contained in folders and binders eight inches thick.

Before releasing the report to the press, the premier angrily denounced both a Vancouver Sun editorial and statements by Opposition Leader Strachan, which followed the bridge tragedy.

The editorial called for an immediate investigation and also a check of all other bridge projects completed under the B.C. Toll Bridges and Highways Authority.

"The editorial tried to create public uneasiness and suggested Highways Minister Gagliardi had gone astray," said the premier. "This was a straight smear editorial, trying to smear Mr. Gagliardi."

The premier said, "Never in the history of the province has a government moved so quickly."

The Sun publisher should resign ... that goes for Strachan too ...

He quoted a press statement by Mr. Strachan which demanded a full probe into the highways department. Mr. Strachan said his party felt Mr. Gagliardi, "... as a layman interfered much too much ... out of this interference has come the classic expression that Mr. Gagliardi's ideas are a triumph of imagination over engineering. Is this bridge collapse a result of Mr. Gagliardi's imagination?"

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled as just the wrong time. To not live in fear of this happening to you, just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

new luxury model car in his garage Tuesday.

Police said Puterbaugh, a boiler operator and bridegroom of four months, left a note indicating suicide but giving no explanation.

HALIFAX—Grattan O'Leary, president of The Ottawa Journal, Tuesday night listed the four "great masters of speech" in Canadian parliamentary history.

He told a directors' banquet of the Bank of Nova Scotia they were Joseph Howe, D'Arcy McGee, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Arthur Meighen.

He said some of Laurier's speeches, including one of his last to the Young Liberals of Ontario on the triumph of love over hate, should be made more reading in Canadian schools.

"To hear him in full cry in the House, to hear him defending a forlorn cause, this was an unforgettable experience."

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand—An American naval officer Tuesday added a new item to that list of "first things I want to do now that I'm back in civilization."

Lieut. Vernon Houk, flying in after a year in charge of the United States South Pole station, declared: "All I want to do is sit on the curb eating celery—and looking at all the girls passing by."

There is a shortage of celery at the Pole.

LONDON—An African villager who battled a lion with his hands to save a mother and child, has been awarded the George Medal—Britain's highest honor for civilian heroes.

The award was given Lilani Daka, a villager of Masaka, Northern Rhodesia.

Daka woke in the night to hear the screams of a woman mingled with the roar of a lion. He grabbed his gun and dashed out.

In a neighboring hut he found a woman her two-year-old daughter cowering before a lion trying to carry off the child.

Daka raised his gun and pulled the trigger. The weapon was not loaded.

He flung it down and charged the lion, springing onto its back and pounding its ribs with his fists.

Daka's son arrived to find his father still wrestling with the lion. As he clung to the mane, Daka yelled to the boy to bring cartridges.

The boy picked up his father's gun and scurried off, collected cartridges and ran back, loading on the way.

When he got to the hut, Daka, mauled on the arm, shoulder and leg, was pulling at the lion's tail to keep it away from the child and her mother.

Daka's son shot the lion dead.

Much of Dr. Krause's address was devoted to health and welfare services. He said the health program which had been initiated 10 years ago had been allowed to decay under the Social Credit government.

There were, the physician said, 9,000 retarded children in the province yet only 1,200 were being cared for.

"The government had built a further wing at Woodlands to accommodate another 300 beds," he said, "but this was not opened, although there were some 400 children on the waiting list for admission."

Man Lying On Road When Struck

DUNCAN—An elderly Indian hit by a car on the night of Nov. 22 was lying on the road at the time of the impact, it was revealed Tuesday at an inquest into his death.

The victim, David Tom, 97, was found beside Trans-Canada Highway north of the Cowichan River bridge. He died in an ambulance on the way to hospital.

NO BLAME

Verdict was of accidental death with no blame attached to anyone.

Joseph A. Boyd, Nanaimo High School teacher, testified that he had seen an object on the road, and had swerved his car to avoid it. When he stopped he found the injured man, he said.

Police testified that "unknown" to Boyd, the aged accident victim had been dragged 58 feet.

existent atmosphere at the heights it travelled.

Scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said if the rocket's death followed the predicted timetable it would fall somewhere between Central Europe and the Middle East.

Sputnik itself is expected to continue circling the globe for another year because its more compact shape offers less atmospheric drag.

Dominion Astrophysical Observatory officials here have given reports of all anticipated "visible" passages of the carrier and its satellite, and thousands of Victorians used them as published in The Times to view the two.

As it dashed along its lonely route, the carrier turned over end. Because of its irregular shape, the sunlight that made it visible was reflected in increasing and decreasing amounts, making it appear to brighten and fade.

Two Saanich councillors thrashed out the pros and cons of the Victoria-Saanich amalgamation issue at a meeting Tuesday night of the Saanich Voters' Association at Hampton Hall.

In the ring were Coun. Leslie Passmore, who is anti-amalgamation, and Coun. Charles Nelles, pro-amalgamation. About 35 persons attended.

Both were cheered, but the audience appeared to lean on the side of Coun. Passmore after he unleashed a barrage of figures in an effort to prove amalgamation would be a costly move for Saanich. The unification of Saanich and the city, he said, would

Bigger Municipalities Pay More

He said provincial government figures on the per capita costs of operating cities in B.C. showed the larger the municipality the higher the costs.

He listed as examples: Kamloops, $23; Kelowna, $21; Nanaimo, $21; New Westminster, $29; Victoria, $33; and Saanich, $13.

"The figures show that Victorians each pay $33 for general administration, police and fire services, against $13 in Saanich," he said. "It stands to reason if we amalgamate we are going to absorb some of these costs."

He estimated the per capita costs in Saanich will go up from $13 to $23 or $25 if the municipalities unite.

Coun. Passmore also held that the larger a city, the farther away its administrators are from the people.

"Saanich does things for its ratepayers which the city would never consider," he said.

It's in the interest of Saanich residents to retain their autonomy, he said, but to co-operate fully with the city on problems common to both areas.

Coun. Charles Nelles agreed that Saanich taxes were lower, but he pointed out to his opponents that there was every reason to expect they would sharply increase within the next few years.

Saanich, he said, was beginning to inherit problems because it is rapidly changing from a rural community to a urban area.

City Solved Most of Its Problems

"Once we become an urban area our taxes will sharply rise," he said. "We can't avoid that. The city, on the other hand, has solved most of its urban problems."

He said it was suggested by amalgamation foes that the only reason the city favors amalgamation is because it "wants" Saanich.

"Well, what's wrong with that," he said. "Surely we are not a country girl being pursued by a villain."

The councillor said whatever harms the city harms Saanich, or whatever benefits the city benefits Saanich.

"We must remember that while we may live in Saanich, most of us earn our living in Victoria," he said. "It is no use pretending that the city is of no concern to us."

Coun. Nelles said the capital region plan to be released in a month had little chance of being approved if the Greater Victoria area was split into four municipalities.

"This plan is important for the welfare and expansion of the whole area," he said. "What chance has it got to be approved by four councils. They are certain to disagree." The councillor appealed to his audience to study the

CANBERRA, Australia (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today he sees "beneficial possibilities" in an exchange of Commonwealth citizens as governors-general of various Commonwealth countries.

But at a press conference held within a few hours of his arrival for a five-day Australian tour the Canadian leader declined to comment directly on an Ottawa report that he would like to see Australia Prime Minister Robert Menzies as Canada's next governor-general. Formal talks with Menzies on a number of questions are scheduled for Thursday.

Diefenbaker also said he hopes to make a tour of African Commonwealth members "as soon as conditions permit and opportunities allow." He said he regrets he was unable to visit Africa in his current 54-day world tour.

NEW AWARENESS

He had found in the present tour, whose main portion was spent visiting Asian Commonwealth members, "a new realization of the vitality of the Commonwealth and the necessity for its preservation."

The Canadian premier also denied a press report from Malaya which one reporter said quoted him as saying Canada favored diplomatic recognition of Communist China.

"I read in Canadian newspapers condemnation because I said the reverse," he said with a smile.

The term of Canada's first native-born governor-general,

Vincent Massey, expires next year following the scheduled summer visit of the Queen and Prince Philip. Diefenbaker said press reports on the possibility of Menzies as Massey's successor were based on conjecture.

However, when asked about the principle of the idea of drawing governors-general from other Commonwealth members, he replied his own view is that there are beneficial possibilities in such a move, bringing closer relationships in the Commonwealth.

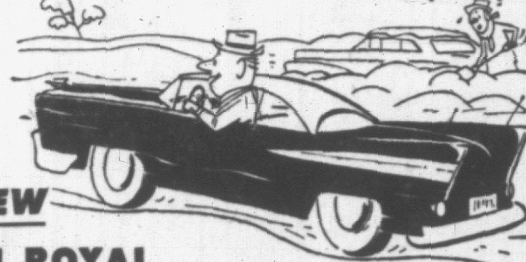

"I see no reason in the years ahead in the development of a vital Commonwealth concept that consideration might not well be given to an interchange of governors-general from other members of the Commonwealth."

Peace Force Dropped

NEW YORK—What happened to the United Nations Peace Force?

A few weeks ago hopes were high that the world was ready to make a start on an international police force, thus fulfilling one of the basic aims of the United Nations. Now, at the suggestion of the Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, the matter has been dropped without a debate, without a vote.

What happened?

This is what people all over the United Nations are asking, and it's understood to be the reason why Canada's External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith made a flying trip to New York.

Earlier, at this session, Mr. Hammarskjöld submitted a report on the UN Emergency Force in which he recommended that the nations approve a basic set of principles to guide future international operations. Furthermore he suggested that he conduct "soundings" with the governments to determine the support they would be willing to give to future operations. But when the matter was due to come up for debate the secretary-general made a speech which he concluded by saying:

"I feel there is no need for the General Assembly to take action at this time."

Apparently contradicting his own earlier recommendation, Mr. Hammarskjöld said that the UN could wait for specific situations to rise in the future before considering the "principles which should apply in a particular case."

Some people at the United Nations are saying that Mr. Hammarskjöld signalled the retreat for the UN Force because he is afraid of being "Trygve Lie-ed." This refers to the fate of his predecessor, Trygve Lie of Norway who was forced to resign because of the opposition he engendered in the Soviet bloc. The Communists are strongly opposed to the international force idea and they have opposed some other actions by Mr. Hammarskjöld—his support for an aerial inspection system, for example, and some of his moves in seeking an answer to the Middle East crisis.

The more generally held belief is that Mr. Hammarskjöld simply ran into more opposition on the peace force idea than he had expected. Rather than have this opposition dramatized by a heavy adverse vote, perhaps even have his proposals voted down, he decided to ask that no further action be taken.

Ironically, the kiss of death may have been put on his proposals by one of the strongest supporters, the United States. Mr. Hammarskjöld and his staff had been working on the matter for some time when it was picked up by the United States and incorporated into the speech given by President Eisenhower before the emergency session of the General Assembly this summer.

This immediately raised Russian opposition and increased the suspicions of the Afro-Asians who fear that an international force might be dominated by the West, and might be used against nationalist movements.

Indians hold similar doubts and, in addition, they are said to fear that international forces might be used in Kashmir.

Opposition also came from the United Arab Republic and, to a lesser extent from other Arab countries. It is assumed that Col. Nasser fears that an international force might hinder his Pan-Arab empire building.

Latin American countries have many times objected to paying their share of the cost of the UN Emergency Force in the Middle East and they are unenthusiastic about undertaking permanent responsibilities of this sort. The Latinos say that they live in peace with one another and they see little reason why they should pay the costs of other people's folly.

The United States is also said to have cooled on the International Force idea.

No representatives here are more disappointed than the Canadians. As a matter of fact, when Prime Minister Diefenbaker was here on the first leg of his world tour, he put in a bid for the International Force and recalled that he first supported the idea in parliament back in 1945.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

King of England?

LONDON—Over the years a person writing from Britain as I do probably receives more of one type of complaining letter than any others. I refer to the criticism of using the word "England" when one means "the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland," plus offshoots such as referring to "an Englishman" when meaning a resident of the UK and Northern Ireland.

The latest rap of the knuckles about this I have received from reader J. Hamilton because I dared to refer to Prince Charles as "the future King of England."

Says Mr. Hamilton: "Surely this is just careless writing on your part, as you know that the monarch is not the monarch of only one section of the United Kingdom. It may be that during your sojourn in London you have developed a habit of saying and writing 'England' when you refer to England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland. This annoys other than the English and your use of the expression is surprising, since you claim descent from a Scots painter."

Let's once and for all get this thing settled and then perhaps it will stem the tide of letters on the subject which seem for some reason to come mainly from the Scots.

First of all—Prince Charles' future title. Buckingham Palace tells me that when he assumes the throne he will be officially: "Charles III. By the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and of his Other Realms and Territories, King, Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith."

Is there any shorter way, I asked the palace, of referring to the monarch whereby you cover England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland—such as calling the Queen "Queen of the United Kingdom?" No, that is never ever done, they said.

What do you yourselves here in England call her, I asked. Just "the Queen," they said. But, they added, in whichever of the numerous countries of which she is Queen she happens to be at the moment you can call her Queen of that country.

So much for the monarch aspect of this frequent complaint.

As regards using "Englishman" for a U.K. resident, the big problem for a writer is that there is just no precise word to use that covers citizens of England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

"Britisher" is not correct. The Oxford dictionary explains that it is an American expression used to differentiate between British-born and U.S. Americans. People here never use the term "Britisher."

"Briton" doesn't fill the bill. Americans use it but it is never used, except when referring to ancient Britons. However, the Oxford dictionary says that in poetry and rhetoric it can be used of a modern British person—provided you call a Scotsman a "North Briton!"

So until someone comes up with a good practical word, the Scots will have to suffer in silence. I tried to make up one by juggling the initials of each country but the word that results is unthinkable!

CHURCHILL NOT ALONE

Fulton Against Freight Boost?

OTTAWA (UPI)—Speculation is widespread in the capital over the possible seriousness of the threatened breach in cabinet solidarity with which Prime Minister Diefenbaker will be called upon to deal on his return from his world travels.

The basis of the speculation is a weekend dispatch—uncontradicted as to its general accuracy—which disclosed that the federal ministers were in surface agreement only over the past week's increase in freight rates.

The report revealed Trade Minister Gordon Churchill as acutely unhappy over the freight rates decision and as being a party to it only reluctantly and after strong protest.

The unusual cabinet situation has been rendered even more intriguing since the weekend by persistent reports to the effect that Churchill did not stand alone, but that dissatisfaction with the freight rates' hoist was shared by others of his fellow ministers.

The name of Justice Minister Davie Fulton, whose home province of British Columbia is hit perhaps harder than any other by the new rates, is mentioned specifically as a sharer of the Churchill views.

Although at the moment no cabinet minister will discuss the delicate shades of balance in which the solidarity of the cabinet stands as a result of the freight rates issue, there is a strong undercurrent of feeling that the crisis would not have arisen if Prime Minister Diefenbaker had been home to handle it personally.

Acting Prime Minister Howard Green is being given marks in capital circles for having displayed the tactfulness necessary to persuade the opponents of the higher rates to accord priority in their actions to the importance of preventing a nation-wide rail strike.

Federal Subsidy For Provinces?

The Chronicle-Herald says today in an Ottawa dispatch a federal government committee is considering recommending a special subsidy for the Atlantic and western provinces to offset a 17-per-cent freight rate increase granted the railways Nov. 26.

Plenty of Planting Can Still Be Done

Is it too late to plant?—Tulip and daffodil bulbs? These may be planted for the next three weeks if need be.

Best results would have been obtained from a mid-September to late-October planting, but at this date the bulbs are better in the soil where moisture and nourishment are available than in storage.

The result of late planting is usually smaller flowers on shorter stems. In a good soil, with proper treatment after flowering, top-size bulbs will be in good condition to produce top-size flowers the following year.

—Fruit trees, raspberries, strawberries? Fruit trees and raspberries, also currants and gooseberries, are planted now, and the work can continue until March if soil conditions permit.

Strawberries should have been planted in August, for that is the time new plants are made. In a well-drained soil, with some form of protection in severe weather, an immediate planting has some chance of succeeding, but not in cold, wet clay.

—Ornamental trees and shrubs? As with fruit trees, these may be planted now, whenever soil and weather conditions permit.

—Rock plants? The answer in this case depends on the amount of attention the gardener is prepared to give after planting is done.

Rock plants are usually small subjects which suffer heaving from frosts and washing-out from heavy rains. If daily attention can be given when necessary, planting will be successful, otherwise leave them until spring.

—Flowering perennials? Where soil conditions permit, immediate planting of this group often succeeds better than a spring planting, but after mid-December very little is gained.

Bennett Praises Highway Policy

Formation of a national highway policy based on recommendations by B.C. Automobile Association was praised Tuesday by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

He said he would gladly attend any conference which the

BCAA could arrange at Ottawa.

The BCAA proposes three-way cost sharing by provincial, federal and municipal governments on construction of limited access roads through urban areas, and a 50-50 federal-provincial split on costs of other highways.

Asked if he approved these proposals, the premier said, "I think these people are good people and our thinking and theirs is not very far apart. I think they are on the right track and I congratulate them on their efforts."

HIT AND RUN

Court Slaps $125 Fines On Autoist

A driver who left an elderly woman pedestrian lying injured in the street was fined a total of $125 in city police court Tuesday.

Hit-run driver Rudolph Varga, 1124 Leonard, was involved in a pedestrian collision on Cook, between Oxford and Sutlej, Nov. 2, when Mrs. Elizabeth Traill, 81, of 1024 Pendergast, received a broken pelvis, broken leg and shock.

He pleaded guilty Monday to charges of failing to remain at the scene of an accident, for which he was fined $100 or 30 days, and to driving without a license, which brought a fine of $25 or five days.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said the terms may be served concurrently.

"This situation is especially serious because you got out of your car and saw this old woman on the road and tried to escape," the magistrate said.

He noted Varga is a young married man with two children and a pregnant wife and added: "I will try to be as lenient as possible, but this sort of thing cannot be condoned."

Varga was chased by another motorist for 11 blocks after the accident and finally jumped from his car and escaped on foot. Police charged him four days later.

A. W. TOONE

ELGIN NEISH

Labor Candidate Builds Platform On Employment

Promotion of secondary industries in Greater Victoria "to create new jobs for the unemployed and job opportunities for local youth" is one of six points on which labor's aldermanic candidate A. W. Toone bases his platform for election in the Dec. 11 civic contest.

In an interview Monday Mr. Toone said that if elected he would press also for:

Amalgamation of Victoria and Saanich, if approved by the forthcoming referendum;

Establishment of a university in Victoria;

Expansion of suitable accommodation for senior citizens;

A multi-purpose auditorium, which would be "self-supporting and create jobs";

WORKERS BANNED

"In regard to the last issue," said Mr. Toone, "the present procedure of city council prevents any persons earning a living from attending council meetings."

"Changing the time of council meetings would be an important step toward equal representation, thus bringing city administration more in line with the wishes of the community."

Urging low-rental housing for the aged, Mr. Toone said old age security benefits should be raised and payable at age 65 without a means test on the federal level—"but of course this is federal and provincial responsibility."

AID FOR ELDERLY

He said he was also in favor of free medical and dental treatment, and free drugs, for elderly people.

Mr. Toone added that municipalities, in his opinion, needed "a far better share of provincial and federal funds," and that the Immigration Act "requires overhauling to protect both immigrant and Canadian workers."

"An overabundance of workers does not lead to prosperity," he added, "but straight to hardship, distrust and other relative miseries."

Mr. Toone said he believed public utilities should be publicly-owned, controlled through a commission of the government which has jurisdiction over it, (federal, provincial or municipal).

On the question of Victoria's parking problem, Mr. Toone said "some sort of off-street parking plan and traffic control" scheme was required, such as that recommended by D. J. Faustman in 1956. He agreed "in principle" with the recent Victoria Improvement Plan.

Mr. Toone, 42-year-old secretary-treasurer of Victoria Labor Council, was nominated for city council by Charles Banfield, former alderman.

'What Answer From Russia?' Asks Bennett

If the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors have obtained assurance from Russian authorities that they will be accepted as immigrants in the USSR, they are keeping it a secret from the government of B.C.

"What answer have these people had to their long cable to Russia?" asked Premier Bennett Tuesday. Both the provincial and federal governments have agreed to assist in moving and settling the immigrants, provided they show proof they will be accepted in the country of their choice.

Yeggs Started $500,000 Fire

BELLEVILLE (CP)—Police said Monday that safecrackers started a $500,000 fire on Saturday which exploded propane gas tanks and burned down an appliance store and furniture shop.

Hake, large fish found on both Atlantic and Pacific coasts, is a relative of the codfish.

Parking Bylaw Criticized

City council candidate Elgin Neish Tuesday urged ratepayers to reject the off-street parking plan.

Mr. Neish, a commercial fisherman, said there "is no need" for the $1,000,000 money bylaw submitted to owner-electors for approval Dec. 11. "City council has ample funds available. Let them use the present meter revenue ($120,000 last year) and make a levy against those downtown business properties which will benefit from the new facilities," he said.

(Present meter revenues are funnelled into general revenue to keep the mill rate down.)

Mr. Neish also said council should "look for some other method used by other cities who have not had to borrow or raise meter rates to build off-street parking." He did not indicate what those methods were.

WORST YET TO COME DOWN UNDER

Few Unemployed in New Zealand

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — New Zealand is in the grip of the worst recession since the war. But the total number of unemployed throughout the country is only 1,133.

New Zealand has been severely hit by the worldwide economic setback. The country depends for prosperity almost entirely on world market prices for wool, dairy produce and meat.

Of these, wool and dairy produce have dropped drastically in price and so far show little recovery. Only meat among New Zealand's major exports is selling well. The result has been a heavy rundown in New Zealand overseas exchange, heavy cuts in imports, sharply increased taxes and a thoroughly gloomy outlook throughout industry and agriculture.

Farmers have much less to spend, business is retrenching drastically, importers and stores have less to sell.

By ordinary standards unemployment might by now be more severe than in the northern hemisphere. In fact it is at present about 0.13 per cent of the labor force — only a small fraction of the figure in the United States, Canada, Britain, or even nearby Australia.

Even more strange, although the worst effects of the recession are believed still to come, employment has shown a rise within the last month. At the end of September the national total of unemployed stood at 1,501. In the last month it has dropped by 368 to the current figure of 1,133. And of those 1,133, only 597 have been out of work long enough to qualify for unemployment benefits.

The reason for New Zealand's great resistance to unemployment in face of a severe economic recession is believed to be the state of full employment which has prevailed since the war.

For more than a decade there have been many thousands of vacant jobs with no one available to fill them, and unemployment until the last year or two has been non-existent.

The recession so far has done no more than wipe out some of the heavy job surplus.

Cowichan Indian Band Needs Help on 'Butter Church'

By PETE LOUDON.

Cowichan Indian Band of Duncan is accepting donations which will permit completion of their Centennial project—reconstruction of the Old Stone Church which was built in 1870 on Comiak Hill, overlooking Cowichan Bay.

The pictures above show the progress of the project to date: At left, the church door before the restoration was started; centre, demolition of dilapidated portion begins; right, new roof completed.

The band, one of six in the province to undertake centennial projects under the government 60-cents-per-capita grant offer, has expended its grant and its matching funds.

The patient workers, under Chief Elwood Modeste received $576 toward their project. They've spent almost three times that much, drawing on their own pockets. Total cost is expected to be just under $2,800.

Their project is one of the most interesting so far

approved by the Centennial Committee. The Old Stone Church built in 1870, was a much-photographed relic until the Cowichans decided it could be restored. It was a stone shell, lacking a roof, or any doors or windows.

Catholic Father Peter Rondeau built it. He came to Victoria in 1858 and set out soon after with a sack of flour, a gun and a breviary to evangelize the Cowichans. He walked to Brentwood Bay and paddled a canoe to Cowichan Bay where he built a log structure which served as both house and church.

He sold butter to raise funds while building the Old Stone Church, which resulted in it first being called the Butter Church. The Indians and a few white settlers completed the structure. It was abandoned in 1880 when the population shifted.

Another theory is that it was given up when it was learned it had been built on Indian lands and the property could not be transferred to the Church.

One report has it that when the doors and windows disappeared, they turned up in the new St. Paul's Church at Fulford Harbor on Salt Spring Island, dedicated in 1885.

"It would be nice to have them restored," mused the volunteer laborers on the new Old Stone Church.

Prevost Post No. 10, Native Sons of B.C., set up a committee to assist the Cowichans rebuild the old landmark. Members are George Evans, Jim Evans and Will Dobson. With their Indian friends, they have been working part time for a year.

Chief Modeste and his men are determined to complete the installation of floors, doors and windows. Donations are being sent to the Restoration Fund, c/o the Indian Agent at Duncan.

"Their forefathers built it by hand, now the Cowichans wish to restore it, to honor their forefathers," says the chief. "It will be used by the band—one of the grandest churches in one of the most picturesque places in B.C."

MONTE ROBERTS

I had an experience with 'inevitability' yesterday, and I wish to say, it is very humbling.

I was driving My Favorite Wife home from her office, and we had come to a stop on Blanshard Street at Bay, waiting for the light to change.

As we sat there, minding our own business, Car A—as they say in the accident reports—started across the intersection as Car B was making a left turn.

Car A and Car B were in collision, and Car B promptly headed for Car C.

Namely, our car.

Now, we could see we were going to be hit. We knew it was inevitable. I couldn't do a thing about it; go backward, go forward, go sideways.

In fact, I didn't have time to even say, "Oh, dear me."

After it was all over—fortunately, the damage was all to the poor little automobile, not to us—I got to thinking about inevitability.

It so happens that our usual route home does NOT take us anywhere near Blanshard and Bay; it also happens that we were 15 minutes later than usual going home yesterday.

It also happens that we were supposed to be attending a cocktail party, which would have taken us in the opposite direction, but passed it up because we both have colds.

And, further, if I had not just barely caught a green light at Fisgard and Government on my way to pick up my wife, we would have been 60 seconds later reaching the intersection of Blanshard and Bay.

In other words, there were all these, and a thousand more, chances of us NOT getting pranged at Blanshard and Bay.

Yet it was inevitable that we were to be pranged, and pranged we were.

You can squirm and wriggle and twist and dodge, but the end result appears to be the same.

It is, indeed, humbling.

$54,000 Collected In 'Blitz'

Kiwanis-service club today extended its one-hour "blitz" fund drive into a day-long campaign.

About $54,000 was collected by close to 2,000 canvassers Tuesday night in the drive for $100,000 to enlarge Kiwanis Village housing project for senior citizens.

But gale-force winds and rain prevented canvassing of about a dozen sections of the Greater Victoria area, publicity chairman Ronald Lochhead said today.

RE-ORGANIZED

"We hope to complete the canvass by the end of the week or within 10 days at most," he said.

Canvassers are being re-organized to cover the missed areas with afternoon and evening visits.

Main areas left to canvass include James Bay, parts of Esquimalt, Gorge, Mount View, Kings Road and Blenkinsop-Maplewood.

Mr. Lochhead said returns were still being received this morning and the $54,000 total may be increased when final tabulations of Tuesday's drive are made.

"This is just a progressive report and we fully expect to reach our objective when the canvassing is completed," he said.

GAGLARDI IN COURT DEC. 18

A speeding charge against Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi will be heard in RCMP court here Dec. 18, by Magistrate A. I. Thomas.

The infraction allegedly occurred in Richmond municipality, but the case was transferred. It was the third ticket issued the minister in a 20-month period.

Fishermen Safe After Night Out

Winds which whooped over the Greater Victoria area in gusts up to 66 miles per hour overnight eased off today after averting threat of another heavy rainstorm tonight.

The gale-force south westerlies interfered with air transportation, knocked over trees and branches in various parts of the city, and touched off a search for two sports fishermen.

The fishermen, J. R. Christiansen and Kund Harboe, both of 128 Superior Street, rented a 16-foot inboard from Brentwood shortly after 12 noon Tuesday.

PLAYED SAFE

Fears for their safety arose when the winds whipped up heavy seas. The men, however, decided to beach their craft on Senanus Island, near Henderson Point, and play it safe by sitting it out overnight.

They turned up safe and sound this morning. The gales forced a TCA aircraft from Vancouver to turn back from Patricia Bay airport after two unsuccessful landing attempts at about 8:30 p.m., and TCA cancelled out four other flights, two to Vancouver, one to Seattle, and one from Vancouver to Victoria.

Winds averaged 35 to 44 miles per hour from 3 p.m. Tuesday to 8 a.m. today. They were followed by a high pressure area which serves as protection from a forecast rain storm thought to be due tonight.

Ferry Chief Disappointed Over Sidney Wharf Delay

"Great disappointment" over the federal government's decision not to build a new ferry terminal at Sidney was expressed here Tuesday by I. D. Burse, general manager of Washington State Ferries.

The state-owned company operates the Sidney-Anacortes service during the summer months. Three watches with a total value of $140 were taken from a show window at the Clock Shop, 1037 Fort, sometime Monday afternoon, the owner said.

A Rockland Avenue resident said someone came up behind her as she walked home from a bus stop at 6 p.m. Tuesday, made an unsuccessful grab for her purse and made off with a bag of gifts.

Frank Pagnotta, 1028 Pine, was fined $15 in city police court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of beer.

Lt.-Cmdr. V. J. Murphy, newly-appointed skipper of HMCS Sussexville, paid his respects to Victoria during a social call in Mayor Percy Scurrah's office today.

'Johnny... Fired the Gun; Chuck Stopped Groaning'

(See Tuesday Trial Story, Page 35)

A sad-eyed young widow in black today recalled the shooting of her father and her husband and a series of savage assaults on herself—all on the same day.

Her voice choked with emotion, Mrs. Phyllis Olwen Mudge, 30, was giving evidence at the seventh day of the trial of Matthew John Till, 16, charged in Criminal Assize Court with the murder of her husband, 38-year-old Charles Mudge.

Her father, John Brand, 69, was slain the same day.

Speaking softly with a slight North of England accent, Mrs. Mudge told how she and her husband took in the accused Till (a ward of the government) last August.

"Did Johnny and your husband get along like two pals?" asked Joseph McKenna, QC, who is defending Till.

"Yes they did," Mrs. Mudge replied.

"Did you ever ask him if he said his prayers?" asked Mr. McKenna.

"No," the widow replied.

"Did you find John Till obedient?"

"Yes."

"Was he polite?"

"Yes."

REPRIMANDED

Earlier, Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenna asked Mrs. Mudge if she or her husband ever reprimanded Till.

Mrs. Mudge: Sometimes my husband did... His grammar wasn't always too good. He used to refer to me as 'she'."

When Mrs. Mudge said she and her husband sometimes "missed liquor" in the house, Mr. McKenna asked her: "Was Till ever suspected by you of taking liquor?"

"No," she replied.

Mrs. Mudge then reconstructed the nightmare sequence of events which began when she visited the room where her father had been sleeping.

BEATING ME

"I don't remember anything until I came to in the basement lying on the floor at the foot of the stairs... Johnny was holding me up by my arm and beating me on my head and shoulders."

"I heard my husband groan-

'AN ISOLATED CASE' OF DISCRIMINATION

Mayor Percy Scurrah today joined with many Victorians to express regrets that some Westall Avenue residents opposed the renting of a house on the street to a young Sikh couple.

The mayor said he did not believe racial discrimination was prevalent in Victoria.

"This is an isolated case," he said. "It is regrettable."

Ajeet Bawa, a 28-year-old Canadian-born East Indian rented a house at 1448 Westall, but was later obliged to give up the key to the landlord and to take his cheque back because neighbors objected.

The landlord told him that neighbors feared that if an East Indian lived in the district their properties would devalue.

Amalgamation Forum

(The big issue to be decided at the Victoria and Saanich elections next week is that of amalgamation. In this column, as they are received, The Times will carry letters from readers pro and con.)

Unity or Chaos?

It is so obviously right in principle that Victoria, Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay should be amalgamated that it is difficult to understand all the controversy. Over-all planning for the future benefit of all and reduction in administrative and operational expenses can only be achieved by amalgamation.

We have been confused with details, selfish parochial attitudes and general misinformation. Voters should ignore all this, vote on principle, not expediency, and let their elected representatives and paid servants work out a plan fair to all.

The decision the voters have to make concerning amalgamation of Victoria and Saanich is a simple one. The question might well be phrased: "Are you in favor of a united, efficient city, or are you in favor of disunited semi-chaos?"

RICHARD HAWKESWORTH, 1941 Ernest.

Pacing the Joneses

There are still some people in Saanich who would like to keep up with the Joneses by amalgamating with Victoria.

This seems foolish after the Saanich Council spending about $40,000 on a municipal building which would be almost a total loss if the proposed amalgamation becomes a reality.

I have studied the amalgamation question and as far as I can see the only people in Saanich who want it are those who have a good income and can afford to pay higher taxes for city services.

The people who want it in Victoria are those who would like to have the Saanich taxpayer share the city's debt burden which I understand is almost too much for the city officials to cope with. This seems to be true or they wouldn't be so anxious to amalgamate with the municipalities.

I think Saanich has enough liabilities already without taking on any more. Furthermore many people have moved from Victoria to Saanich to get away from high taxes.

TOM CLARK, Royal Oak.

Take Over City

I do not think the time is really ready to consider this question of amalgamation—not before Victoria puts its house in order...

A better scheme would be for the municipalities of Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay to study the possibility of taking over Victoria and running it as a port outlet...

East Victoria should go to Oak Bay, west Victoria to Esquimalt and the balance, from Garbally Rd., to Saanich.

All Vancouver is to the surrounding municipalities over there is a port outlet.

H. B. COX, 4072 Wilkinson Road.

ASK The TIMES

Q. I am asking the Times to please tell me why they have such large numbers on the Canadian football uniforms. Master S.D.

A. To paraphrase a classic quote, you can't tell the players without a number. And football fans like to know who is doing what out on the field.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Tickets for the two-night Kinsmen bingo Dec. 15 and 16 will remain on sale at T. Eaton Co. Ltd. until Dec. 15, committee chairman Jack Phillion said today.

Already 11,000 tickets have been sold, he said, and 5,000 remain. Buyers of tickets purchased no later than Dec. 6 will be eligible for prizes consisting of trips to any point in the world.

Left turns off Quadra at Hillside will be prohibited between 4 and 5:30 p.m. starting Thursday. Traffic signs putting a recent bylaw into effect will be erected that day.

Calvin Wilson, 718 Queens, only recently out of jail for taking a car without the owner's consent, was sent back for 30 days on the same charge in city police court today.

Wilson was picked up by police at Fairfield and Foul Bay in a car owned by John M. Scouler, 2181 Haultain, 10 minutes after the auto was reported stolen from Holyrood House at 7:55 p.m. Monday.

A plea of guilty was entered Tuesday.

The 1958-59 Community Chest drive, officially ended last week, refuses to fade away.

Several hundred dollars filtered in today and Tuesday—including a cheque for $800 from a woman who had already given. Some $2,000 has been collected so far from the civil service canvass due to end Friday.

Total, which stood at $267,500 when the appeal ended Sunday, stands today at $271,000. But chest secretary Adrian Gilmore doubted the target of $300,000 would be reached.

Donald Smith, RCN, was fined $15 in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to littering a street.

Police said Smith dumped two beer bottles from a car.

A flurry of burglaries, shoplifting and an attempted purse-snatching was reported to city police Tuesday.

Three watches with a total value of $140 were taken from a show window at the Clock Shop, 1037 Fort, sometime Monday afternoon, the owner said.

A Rockland Avenue resident said someone came up behind her as she walked home from a bus stop at 6 p.m. Tuesday, made an unsuccessful grab for her purse and made off with a bag of gifts.

Talking Turkey!

DEAR ABBY...

DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas my husband asked me if I'd fix Christmas dinner for his family. His family includes a mother, his sister and her husband, two brothers and their wives and four teen-aged children. We asked them five weeks ahead of time. I started dinner at 7.30 a.m. Christmas Day and invited them to come at twelve o'clock noon. They showed up at 11.30 a.m. and his sister rushed me something terrible. My bread wasn't even out of the oven, but she insisted I serve dinner because everyone was starved. We sat down at twelve sharp, and by 12.45 everyone was through and out of the house. I was hurt, but didn't say anything. My husband said, "Let's go for a ride," so we drove around and stopped in to say hello to his brother's "in-laws" (the one who was at our house) and when we walked in at 2.00 p.m. there were all MY dinner guests eating another Christmas dinner! I told my husband right there that I would never fix them another meal. Was I wrong? —HURT

DEAR HURT: You were right! They deserve to eat crow. With humble pie for dessert.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what some people have against HILLBILLIES? Just because they marry young is no reason for others to make fun of them. Why is it that you rarely hear of HILLBILLIES getting divorced? —FOR HILLBILLIES

DEAR FOR: Maybe it is because the kinfolk are such straight shooters.

DEAR ABBY: I was married too young and had a baby. The marriage didn't work out, so I got a divorce. I was looked down on because I was a divorcee, so I moved out of the province, and told everyone my husband was killed in the war. I know it was wrong, but I got tired of fighting off the men who thought a divorcee had nothing to lose. I'm going with a man who wants to marry me, but I am afraid if I tell him the truth he won't marry me. What should I do? —A DIVORCEE

DEAR DIVORCEE: No question asked in sincerity is too "stupid" to answer. Look up the word the way you THINK it is spelled... and keep looking. If you still can't find it, look up a synonym (a word that means the same thing) and you could find it there. If you strike out, ask somebody.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHIRLEY: There is not much to SEE in a small town — but what you HEAR makes up for it. Stay where you are.

Mrs. Mudge Starts Giving Evidence in Murder Trial

Murder suspect Matthew John Till kept his eyes averted and looked straight ahead as a young woman dressed in black entered Assize Court late Tuesday on the sixth day of his trial.

He stared steadily in front of him as she sat down and faced the 12-man jury. Rustlings and whispered chatter in the packed public gallery abruptly ceased as she began to give evidence.

Mrs. Phyllis Mudge, 30-year-old wife of former Yarrows paymaster Charles Mudge, 38, found slain at their Metchosin Road home, September 13, looked not once at the 16-year-old boy sitting statue-like in the dock 20 feet to her left.

Most of the time she looked at Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie, who stood away from his usual position near the dock and questioned her from a point near the far end of the jury box.

Spoke Softly

Till — foster son of the Mudges — is accused of the murder of Mr. Mudge. Mrs. Mudge's 69-year-old father, John Brand, was also shot to death during an afternoon that saw Mrs. Mudge savagely attacked.

Neat in black full-length coat, black pillbox hat, black handbag and black suede shoes, Mrs. Mudge spoke softly and sighed frequently as she testified. Again and again Mr. Justice J. G. Ruttan asked her to speak louder "because it is important the jury hears everything you say."

Mrs. Mudge gently fingered the bracelets on her right arm as she spoke, glancing occasionally at the blood-stained clothing and exhibits on the clerk's desk in front of her.

She said she was born in England, came to Canada in December, 1947, with her father, married Mr. Mudge Feb. 19, 1954, and "after living at various places in Victoria," paid $5,000 down on the $17,000 house at 3460 Metchosin.

Mrs. Brand, she said, paid $40 a month board. Till, whom the Mudges accepted as foster son when his previous foster parents (the Douglasses) moved out of the dwelling, stayed on at the house after a few weeks at a nearby address.

$45 a Month

"The welfare people (Family and Children's Welfare) paid us $45 a month for Johnny," Mrs. Mudge said.

She added the boy helped the Mudges move in "and gave a hand when Chuck built a fence and dug the well—he was a good worker, always willing to do anything."

In answer to the prosecutor's questions, Mrs. Mudge said the only times she was alone with the boy was when she drove him to school. He was a Grade 10 student, first at Mt. View High School, later at Belmont High School, where he was planning to take a university course.

Mrs. Mudge said they prepared a room for the boy in the basement and "put a television set in there for him. The welfare people provided his clothing."

She said she had been employed as a comptometer operator at $190 a month, with which she paid the groceries, while her husband, who she said earned $500 a month at Yarrows, "paid the other bills."

FULL GALLERY FOR TRIAL

Spectators Bring Their Own Lunch

Seats in the public gallery above Assize Court were at a premium Tuesday as the sixth day of the Till murder trial got underway.

Several spectators—many of whom were middle-aged women—arrived an hour before court began at 10 a.m., and more than a score sat on through the 1½-hour luncheon break.

They produced sandwiches and refused to budge. One woman said she wasn't "going to miss Mrs. Mudge's evidence," while a young man declared watching murder trials was his favorite hobby.

NO RESERVATION

19 City Engineers To Get Certificates

Nineteen Victorians will be among 85 newly-registered engineers who will receive membership certificates at the annual convention of the Association of Professional Engineers of British Columbia at the Empress Hotel, Friday.

The certificates will be presented at a luncheon meeting. Dr. Brock Chisholm, former director of the World Health Organization, will address a convention meeting Saturday at noon.

There will be a dance in the ballroom the same evening. A tea for engineers wives will be held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Sanderson, 3505 Upper Terrace Road, Friday, at 3 p.m.

POTTER HOST

Russell Potter, chairman of the Victoria branch of the association, will act as host to the convention.

T. H. Crosby and H. J. MacLeod, members of the B.C. Power Commission, will receive life memberships in the association.

Certificates will be presented to:

W. H. Adrian, 3929 Rowley Road; Col. C. R. Boehm, 2306 Arbutus Road; P. H. W. Bray, 1050 Beverley Place; C. B. Brown, 440 Quebec Street; D. Ferguson, 1147 Hilda; Lt.-Cmdr. R. J. Hawkesworth, 1941 Ernest Avenue; R. M. Hearst, 1312 Haultain; K. H. Kitching, 3906 Lochside; William Maddock, 3937 Lauder Road; N. Moysa, 929 Claremont Avenue; K. K. Nishikawa, 1226 Clagflower; J. B. Nuttall, 1699 Richardson Street; S. M. Onhasey, 3770

WALLACE COURTNEY ... ready for Viscounts.

End of '59 For Airport Improvements

A new administration centre and longer, stronger runways will be completed at Patricia Bay Airport by the end of 1959.

TCA Victoria branch manager Wallace Courtney told Kiwanis Club members Tuesday the improvement will be completed in ample time to take the new Vickers Viscount planes on the Victoria-Vancouver run.

He was asked to estimate a completion date by club members following a talk by TCA public relations officer Ross Smythe at a luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel.

"By the end of 1961, or earlier," Mr. Smythe said, "you will be receiving Viscounts on the Victoria-Vancouver run, although we haven't estimated a definite date."

He described his company's present program of conversion from piston-engined to turbo-prop and pure jet aircraft, estimated to be completed by 1961.

"We hope to be the first inter-continental carrier," he said, "to be completely converted to turbo-prop aircraft."

He said the change-over would cost about $200,000,000 in new planes and improved ground facilities.

INDIAN LEADER URGES MORE SCHOOLING

'It's Up to You Parents'

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—The need for Indian parents to make sure their sons and daughters get all the education they can was stressed here Tuesday at the opening of the three-day convention of the British Columbia Native Brotherhood.

Robert Clifton of Courtenay, president of the organization, told the 110 delegates and guests from all over B.C. that the native Indian has come a long way in the last 100 years.

He said that whereas treatment of the Indian once paralleled Little Rock, Arkansas, today Indians take part in community life. However they were still seeking equality.

The road to extended rights was through education.

"It is up to you fathers and mothers to see that your children get the best education they can. I cry sometimes because I'm not educated."

Also urging the delegates to fight for their rights, was Homer Stevens of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer of the United Fishermen's and Allied Workers Union who warned the natives they would get nothing without a struggle.

Prince Rupert Mayor P. J. Lester told the delegates, "If you are wise and patient you will accomplish much. If you are rash and hasty your plans and hopes may be put aside for many years."

"...a race
nobody wins"

"With business activity in this country, and also in the United States, now clearly on the rise, the need for aggressive budgetary and monetary stimuli has diminished. And the task of refunding large maturing issues of government securities, to which monetary policy has been noticeably adapted in the past year, has been lightened by the success of the Canada Conversion Loan. I may say that our facilities were used to the greatest possible extent to assist in this operation.

"I recognize, of course, that even with the most resolute determination we are not wholly the masters of our own price level in Canada. But here, too, the auguries are favourable, for the existence of sufficient supplies of virtually all internationally traded commodities makes it unlikely that a general rise of world prices will conspire against the attempt to hold the line at home.

"What is more, these very conditions of world trade underscore the need to ensure that Canadian products represent good value, which is the only sound basis for maintaining and improving Canada's position in world markets.

"Let us resolve and work together, then, to stop this treadmill of inflation, for it is a race in which one must run to keep even and a race that nobody wins."

GORDON R. BALL,
President.

Builder Blamed
In Vancouver
Bridge Disaster

The Lett Royal Commission Tuesday placed responsibility for the June 17 collapse of the partially-built Second Narrows Bridge on the contractors, Dominion Bridge Company.

The B.C. government was exonerated in the tragedy which claimed 18 lives. Collapse was held due to failure of a temporary support section known as N4. Dominion Bridge Company was named guilty of negligence in the design and construction of the bridge "falsework" and for failing to submit plans for "falsework" to the engineers.

Consulting engineers Swan, Wooster and Partners were charged with a lack of care in not requiring the contractor to submit the plans of the "falsework."

Premier Bennett, who released the royal commission report of Chief Justice Sherwood Lett, called for resignations of Sun publisher Donald Cromie and Opposition Leader Robert Strachan for suggesting last June that Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi might be also partly responsible. He pointed out the bridge is being built by the B.C. Toll Highways and Bridges Authority and not by the highways department, and the authority was held blameless, in any event.

The premier said the Lett report was presented to the cabinet late Monday. Quoting from the report, the premier said: "The toll authority received the advice and recommendation of the bridge division of the highways department as to the design of the bridge as prepared by the engineers (Swan, Wooster and Partners).

"This advice, as to design, was sound and was followed, and was not disregarded in any way by the (toll) authority.

"There was no negligence or faulty judgment on the part of the (toll) authority, which caused or contributed to the collapse."

The premier said the chief justice added, "for this negligence, I find the Dominion

To Carry Mice,
Monkeys Aloft

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defence Department announced today it will launch a series of satellites with mice and monkeys aboard in an effort to learn how to put a man in orbit and get him back.

The program, called "Project Discoverer," will be carried out at Vandenberg Air Force base near Lompoc, Calif.

The first shot of the series will be fired in about 30 days.

Project Discoverer will use proved military rockets capable of putting as much as five tons of payload into an orbit around the earth.

The first moon of the new launching series will be fired into orbit late this month or early next. It will weigh about 1,300 pounds.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's space agency, said further launchings may be expected at the rate of about one a month in 1959.

In disclosing the plan to use mice and monkeys as satellite "crews" during Project Discoverer, Johnson said space experts believe they can bring artificial moons back to earth and land them within 200 miles of a desired point.

Johnson said no attempt will be made to put a man in orbit in 1959. And the first animals, he said, probably will not go aloft until the fifth or sixth launching in the series.

Project Discoverer plans now cover only next year, but Johnson said he expects it to continue indefinitely.

'MYSTERY BEEPS'

SUNNYVALE, Calif. ((CP))—Detection of a mysterious signal from space was reported Tuesday night, following a report that Russia has within the last two weeks fired a rocket past the moon and on toward Mars.

However, the U.S. defence department said it knows nothing of the signals, and denied any knowledge of the reported rocket launching.

The signals were reported by a missile tracking station operated here by the Lockheed missiles system division, Station chief C. Roger Moe said the signals definitely came from a man-made instrument and were not caused by any natural phenomena.

A spokesman said the signals could not be explained at this time.

"They were similar to but not the same as the tele-

meter signals from Sputnik I in its earlier stages."

They were picked up on the 20,003 megacycle band and continued for 10 or 15 minutes, he said. The information was handed over to the U.S. Air Force.

The report of the rocket launching came from Erik Bergaust, editor of Missiles and Rockets Magazine. He told the Advertising Club in Pittsburgh that U.S. scientists tracked the missile by radio for three days.

Scientists associated with the U.S. space programs joined the defence department in denying any knowledge of the rocket.

'MOONBIRD' SET

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The Army appeared almost ready today to send its first moon rocket hurtling into space in a vital radiation-measuring mission.

The 140-foot-tall service tower of the Army's moon bird moved back from the rocket Tuesday, exposing a vehicle that bore a striking resemblance to the Jupiter-C rockets that put three satellites into orbit in six tries.

Although there has been no official announcement, the Army is expected to fire the tall Juno II rocket some time this weekend.

The Army's moon vehicle appeared fully assembled when it was revealed Tuesday. It appeared that only final checks were necessary prior to firing.

Dr. Werner von Braun, German-born Army missile chief, has said the Army will aim its rocket at the moon.

But he said that because of the lack of an adequate guidance system, the Juno II probably will miss the moon and eventually become a satellite of the sun, millions of miles away.

In contrast to the Air Force moon rockets, which were designed to orbit the lunar sphere and take crude TV pictures of its never-seen dark side, the Army's payload package is intended to take radiation measurements in space.

Wind-Lashed Flames Raze
36 Homes

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A wind-lashed fire has cut an eight-mile-wide swath from the mountains to the sea but a massive battery of pumps, virtually one to a house today checked a threat to this famed film colony.

Elsewhere, flame walls 100 feet high roared on unchecked. The huge blaze, driven by 50 mile-an-hour winds, has destroyed an estimated 36 homes.

Hundreds of residents have fled the scene. The blaze, perhaps set by an arsonist, burst out Tuesday on the brush and oak-studded inland slopes of the Santa Monica Mountains. The winds quickly whipped it over the crest of the hills and down canyons to the sea.

JUMPS HIGHWAY

The Malibu Beach film colony is on the ocean side of the highway. The flames jumped from the land side across the highway but the intensive efforts of firemen and their pumps and residents with garden hoses checked the threat.

Stopped by the Pacific Ocean, the flames turned their fury toward thickly-settled Malibu Canyon, at the mouth of which lies the beach colony that has long been a favorite residential area for movie people.

Firemen battled fiercely through the night in an effort to keep the blaze out of Malibu Canyon, but lost the fight just before dawn when flames 100 feet high roared over the top of the last ridge and bore down on the homes a half-mile below.

Directly in the path of the flames were a dozen homes, a Catholic church and school and an elementary school being used as fire fighting headquarters and an evacuation centre.

The fire has already destroyed several expensive homes, among them the $50,000 hilltop house of actor Lew Ayres.

RANCHES ABANDONED

A barn on actor Ronald Reagan's ranch was burned down and ranches owned by Bob Hope and Canadian-born Glenn Ford had to be abandoned.

In the Malibu Beach colony residents spent the night spraying water on their homes to keep them from being ignited by sparks from the roaring fire.

Among them was actor Jackie Coogan. But as the flames topped the ridge at the head of the canyon, many of them packed their belongings and started to leave.

Fire officials said the blaze may be worse than the Malibu fire two years ago that burned for five days, blackening 42,000 acres and destroying 99 homes. Some of the same ground is being burned over now, but most of the fire is in the hills running down to the seashore, about 20 miles from Los Angeles.

Early today the fire had covered 14,000 acres.

'GONE CRAZY'

"This thing has gone crazy," said county fire chief Keith Klingner, directing more than 1,000 men on the fire lines.

Eight firemen were burned when a sudden wind shift sent the blaze roaring back at them. They fought through to safety but suffered burns on their faces and hands.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Bulgarian government has refused to allow a Bulgarian woman to be reunited with her dying mother, it was learned today.

John Taylor, lawyer and member of parliament, said today he received word that the Communist country has turned down an application for an exit permit to Canada for Mrs. Viveia Vlasarev, 40, of Sofia.

Mrs. Vlasarev's mother, Mrs. Mara Baltz, 56, of Nanaimo, B.C., is dying of cancer. She has been given only a short time to live.

The Canadian government had given complete clearance for the entry of Mrs. Vlasarev, her husband, Dr. Dimitr Vlasarev, and their two children.

N.Y. Bank

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman who appeared to be in her 60s robbed a bank of about $3,000 today after threatening to splash acid on a man teller.

She fled from the bank and disappeared among throngs of Christmas shoppers.

The woman did not utter a word, but issued her threat in a note pushed across the counter to the teller.

"I have acid in a glass and if you don't give me what I want I'll splash it on you," it read.

She showed him a glass containing colorless liquid.

CREW RESCUED
AFTER SHIP
ABANDONED

LONDON (UPI)—Two freighters collided in the fog-shrouded English Channel today, tearing the stern off one and forcing its crewmen to abandon the ship.

All the crewmen were rescued by tugboats and lifeboats.

The steamers were the 11,156-ton Greek ship King Minos II and the Greek freighter Prodromos II.

People and Things

LONDON—"No hard drinking during the ceremony" was the order Tuesday when the Queen Mother opened a new bungalow colony for retired barkeepers.

A ribbon was cut and the Queen Mother strolled round the pleasant rows of little homes. Not a bottle in sight.

Under a marquee she sipped tea with a jolly vintage of old pint pullers, each with more than 20 years' service at the bar, and their wives. Only occasionally did some of the men's eyes stray to a silk curtain directly behind the Queen Mother's chair.

Fifteen minutes later the royal visitor left the estate of Denham for her London home.

The silk curtain was pulled aside. Crates upon crates of hard liquor were revealed. And 100 pairs of trained hands set to work with corkscrews and bottle openers.

"Bridge Company Ltd. responsible."

The premier further quoted the chief justice, with regard to the consulting engineers, Swan, Wooster and Partners: "There was an obligation on the engineers to satisfy themselves that the falsework proposed to be used, complied with the requirements of the specifications."

THEY KNEW

He said the toll authority, specifications required this step and the engineers knew this.

Still quoting Mr. Justice Lett, "When the contractor failed to submit these plans, it was the duty of the (consulting) engineers, to their client, to require from the contractor, their production. This duty the engineers failed to perform."

The chief justice also found fault with the contractor "... in leaving the design of the upper grillage of false bent N4 to a comparatively inexperienced engineer, and failing to provide for adequate or effective checking of the design and the calculations made in connection with the design."

DEMAND PLANS

Main recommendation in the report was that the consulting engineers be required to demand of the contractors all of their proposed plans. The contractor should not use any temporary works in erection until the engineers have signified that they have completed their examination and have no objection to the contractor's proposals.

Premier Bennett said the latter recommendation "will be immediately implemented." It is a restatement of the contract specifications originally laid down.

The premier also said because of the interest in the inquiry among "professional circles and bridge builders throughout the world, at least volume 1 of the report would be printed. Volume 2 comprises technical exhibits primarily of interest to the engineering profession."

8 INCHES THICK

The report of the chief justice, including a full array of evidence presented to the inquiry, was contained in folders and binders eight inches thick.

Before releasing the report to the press, the premier angrily denounced both a Vancouver Sun editorial and statements by Opposition Leader Strachan, which followed the bridge tragedy.

The editorial called for an immediate investigation and also a check of all other bridge projects completed under the B.C. Toll Bridges and Highways Authority.

"The editorial tried to create public uneasiness and suggested Highways Minister Gagliardi had gone astray," said the premier. "This was a straight smear editorial, trying to smear Mr. Gagliardi." The premier said, "Never in the history of the province has a government moved so quickly."

"The Sun publisher should resign... that goes for Strachan too."

He quoted a press statement by Mr. Strachan which demanded a full probe into the highways department. Mr. Strachan said his party felt Mr. Gagliardi, "... as a layman interfered much too much ... out of this interference has come the classic expression that Mr. Gagliardi's ideas are a triumph of imagination over engineering. Is this bridge collapse a result of Mr. Gagliardi's imagination?"

Man Lying On Road When Struck

DUNCAN—An elderly Indian hit by a car on the night of Nov. 22 was lying on the road at the time of the impact, it was revealed Tuesday at an inquest into his death.

The victim, David Tom, 97, was found beside Trans-Canada Highway north of the Cowichan River bridge. He died in an ambulance on the way to hospital.

Verdict was of accidental death with no blame attached to anyone.

Joseph A. Boyd, Nanaimo High School teacher, testified that he had seen an object on the road, and had swerved his car to avoid it. When he stopped he found the injured man, he said.

Police testified that "unknown" to Boyd, the aged accident victim had been dragged 58 feet.

Pete Dawkins Top Grid Star

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pete Dawkins, star halfback of the unbeaten Army team, Tuesday was named winner of the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding American college football player of the 1958 season.

The Downtown Athletic Club, which presents the annual award, said that Dawkins was the winner by a substantial margin in the balloting over his nearest rivals, passing star Randy Duncan, of Iowa, and triple threat back Billy Cannon, of perfect-record Louisiana State.

Completing the top 12 in the balloting were, in order: Bob White, of Ohio State; Joe Kapp, of California; Bill Austin, of Rutgers; Bob Harrison, of Oklahoma; Dick Bass, of College of the Pacific; Don Meredith, of SMU; Nick Pietrosante, of Notre Dame; Monty Stickles, of Notre Dame; Sam Williams, of Michigan State, and George Deiderich, of Vanderbilt.

GERMANS AWARD MEDAL TO POLAR HERO FUCHS

BERLIN (Reuters)—Sir Vivian Fuchs, head of the British expedition that completed the first land crossing of the Antarctic early this year, Tuesday received a gold medal from the Berlin Geographical Society to mark a "great human achievement and scientific deed."

Two Saanich councillors thrashed out the pros and cons of the Victoria-Saanich amalgamation issue at a meeting Tuesday night of the Saanich Voters' Association at Hampton Hall.

In the ring were Coun. Leslie Passmore, who is anti-amalgamation, and Coun. Charles Nelles, pro-amalgamation. About 35 persons attended.

Both were cheered, but the audience appeared to lean on the side of Coun. Passmore after he unleashed a barrage of figures in an effort to prove amalgamation would be a costly move for Saanich. The unification of Saanich and the city, he said, would cost Saanich taxpayers an additional $10 or $15 in taxes annually.

Bigger Municipalities Pay More

He said provincial government figures on the per capita costs of operating cities in B.C. showed the larger the municipality the higher the costs.

He listed as examples: Kamloops, $23; Kelowna, $21; Nanaimo, $21; New Westminster, $29; Victoria, $33; and Saanich, $13.

"The figures show that Victorians, each pay $33 for general administration, police and fire services, against $13 in Saanich," he said. "It stands to reason if we amalgamate we are going to absorb some of these costs."

He estimated the per capita costs in Saanich would go up from $13 to $23 or $25 if the municipalities unite.

Coun. Passmore also held

City Solved Most of Its Problems

"Once we become an urban area our taxes will sharply rise," he said. "We can't avoid that. The city, on the other hand, has solved most of its urban problems."

He said it was suggested by amalgamation foes that the only reason the city favors amalgamation is because it "wants" Saanich.

"Well, what's wrong with that," he said. "Surely we are not a country girl being pursued by a villain."

The councillor said whatever harms the city harms Saanich, or whatever benefits the city benefits Saanich.

"We must remember that while we may live in Saanich, most of us earn our living in Victoria," he said. "It is no use pretending that the city is of no concern to us."

Coun. Nelles said the capital region plan to be released in a month had little chance of being approved if the Greater Victoria area was split into four municipalities.

"This plan is important for the welfare and expansion of the whole area," he said. "What chance has it got to be approved by four councils. They are certain to disagree." The councillor appealed to his audience to study the

CANBERRA, Australia (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today he sees "beneficial possibilities" in an exchange of Commonwealth citizens as governors-general of various Commonwealth countries.

But at a press conference held within a few hours of his arrival for a five-day Australian tour the Canadian leader declined to comment directly on an Ottawa report that he would like to see Australia Prime Minister Robert Menzies as Canada's next governor-general. Formal talks with Menzies on a number of questions are scheduled for Thursday.

Diefenbaker also said he hopes to make a tour of African Commonwealth members "as soon as conditions permit and opportunities allow." He said he regrets he was unable to visit Africa in his current 54-day world tour.

NEW AWARENESS

He had found in the present tour, whose main portion was spent visiting Asian Commonwealth members, "a new realization of the vitality of the Commonwealth and the necessity for its preservation."

The Canadian premier also denied a press report from Malaya which one reporter said quoted him as saying Canada favored diplomatic recognition of Communist China.

"I read in Canadian newspapers condemnation because I said the reverse," he said with a smile.

The term of Canada's first native-born governor-general

Vincent Massey, expires next year following the scheduled summer visit of the Queen and Prince Philip. Diefenbaker said press reports on the possibility of Menzies as Massey's successor were based on conjecture.

However, when asked about the principle of the idea of drawing governors-general from other Commonwealth members, he replied his own view is that there are beneficial possibilities in such a move, bringing closer relationships in the Commonwealth. "I see no reason in the years ahead in the development of a vital Commonwealth concept that consideration might not
